Practicing Disability Studies In Education Acting Toward Social Change:

Practicing Disability Studies in Education David J. Connor, Jan W. Valle, Chris Hale, 2015 Practicing Disability Studies in Education Acting Toward Social Change celebrates the diversity of contemporary work being developed by a range of scholars working within the field of Disability Studies in Education DSE The central idea of this volume is to share ways in which educators practice DSE in creative and eclectic ways in order to rethink, reframe and reshape the current educational response to disability Largely confined to the limitations of traditional educational discourse this collective and growing group continues to push limits, break molds, assert the need for plurality, explore possibilities, move into the unknown, take chances, strategize to destabilize and co-create new visions for what can be instead of settling for what is Much like jazz musicians who rely upon one another on stage to create music collectively these featured scholars have been and continue to riff with one another in creating the growing body of DSE literature In sum this volume is DSE at work Social Justice Pedagogy Across the Curriculum Thandeka K. Chapman, Nikola Hobbel, 2022-04-20 How can we continue to support educators who wish to design and facilitate social justice classrooms What knowledge and tools do pre and in-service educators need to teach about in equity, justice, resilience and agency across the curriculum in K-12 classrooms The new edition of this compelling text synthesizes in one volume historical foundations, philosophic, theoretical, conceptualizations and applications of social justice education in public school classrooms Part I details the history of the multicultural movement and the instantiation of public schooling as a social justice project Part II connects theoretical frameworks to social justice curricula Parts I and II are general to all K-12 classrooms Part III provides powerful specific subject area examples of good practice including Multilingualism and Ethnic Studies Social Justice Pedagogy Across the Curriculum Second Edition includes highlighted Points of Inquiry and Points of Praxis sections that offer recommendations to teachers and researchers and activities, resources and suggested readings These features invite teachers at all stages of their careers to reflect on the role of social justice in education particularly as it relates to their particular classrooms, schools and communities Relevant for any course that addresses history, theory or practice of multicultural social justice education and teaching diverse groups of students this text is essential reading for future and practicing teachers to understand and create resources for transformative, rigorous and inclusive learning environments that support students from a range of backgrounds Critical Readings in Interdisciplinary Disability Studies Linda Ware, 2020-03-13 This edited volume includes chapters on disability studies organized around three themes: Theory, Philosophy and Critique Informed by a range of scholars who may or may not fashion their work beneath the banner of disability studies in explicit terms it draws connections across a range of identities, knowledges, histories and struggles that may on the face of the text seem unrelated The chapters are cross-categorical and interdisciplinary for purposes of complicating disability studies across international contexts and multiple locations that consider practice-oriented and intersectional approaches for analysis and advocacy This integrative approach heralds more powerful ways to imagine disability and the conversation on disability Understanding the Boundary between Disability Studies and Special Education through Consilience, Self-Study, and Radical Love David I. Hernández-Saca, Holly Pearson, Catherine Kramarczuk Voulgarides, 2022-12-13 In Understanding the Boundary between Disability Studies and Special Education through Consilience Self Study and Radical Love the authors explore what it means to engage in boundary work at the intersection of traditional special education systems and critical disability studies in education The book consists of fifteen groundbreaking accounts that challenge dominant medicalized discourses about what it means to exist within and around special education systems that create space for new conceptions of what it means to teach lead learn and exist within a conciliatory space driven by radical love and disability justice principles The book pushes readers to consider how their own personal professional and programmatic future transformational actions can be driven by disruption and the desire for freedom from the hegemony of traditional special education and White and Ability supremacy

Contemplating Dis/Ability in Schools and Society David J. Connor, 2018-07-15 This book chronicles the professional life of a career long inclusive educator in New York City through eight different stages in special and general education Developing a new approach to research as part of qualitative methodology David J Connor merges the academic genre of autoethnography with memoir to create a narrative that engages the reader through stories of personal experiences within the professional world that politicized him as an educator After each chapter's narrative a systematic analytic commentary follows that focuses on teaching and learning in schools and universities the influence of educational laws specific models of disability and how influence educators and educational researchers and educational structures and systems including their impact on social political and cultural experiences of people with disabilities This autoethnographic memoir documents over three decades the relationship between special and general education the growth of the inclusion movement and the challenge of special education as a discrete academic field As part of a national group of critical special educators Connor describes the growth of counter theory through the inception and subsequent growth of DSE as a viable academic field and the importance of rethinking human differences in new ways Disability Studies and the Inclusive Classroom Susan Baglieri, 2017-04-21 Disability Studies and the Inclusive Classroom is a core textbook that integrates knowledge and practice from the fields of disability studies and special education The second edition has been fully revised and updated throughout to include stronger connections between race class sexual orientation gender and disability to emphasize intersecting identities and experiences stronger emphasis on curriculum and teaching rather than on attitudes toward disability and updates to current events cultural references resources research literature laws and policies

Crippling the Archive Jenifer L. Barclay, Stefanie Hunt-Kennedy, 2025-08-05 How do we explain the conspicuous absence of disability from the histories we write What forces and factors create this dynamic How can disability be everywhere and nowhere present and absent and obvious and overlooked in both the historical record and historians interpretations of the past Jenifer L Barclay and Stefanie

Hunt Kennedy edit a collection of interdisciplinary essays that consider how and why physical sensory intellectual and psychological disabilities are underrepresented erased or distorted in the historical record The contributors draw on the methodology and practice of crippling to uncover disability in contested archives and explore ways to build inclusive archives accountable to and centered on disabled people and disability justice Throughout they show ableness informing the politics of the archive as a physical space a discriminatory record and a collection of silences An essential contribution to research methods and disability justice Crippling the Archive offers a blueprint for intersectional and interdisciplinary approaches that bridge disability studies history and archival studies Organizational Theory for Equity and Diversity Colleen A.

The Race Controversy in American Education

Lillian Dowdell Drakeford Ph.D., 2015-07-28 In this unique two volume work expert scholars and practitioners examine race and racism in public education tackling controversial educational issues such as the school to prison pipeline charter schools school funding affirmative action and racialized curricula This work is built on the premise that recent efforts to advance color blind race neutral educational policies and reforms have not only proven ineffective in achieving racial equity and equality of educational opportunities and outcomes in America s public schools but also exacerbated existing inequalities That point is made through a collection of essays that examine the consequences of racial inequality on the school experience and success of students of color and other historically marginalized populations Addressing K 12 education and higher education in historically black as well as predominantly white institutions the work probes the impact of race and racism on education policies and reforms to determine the role schools school processes and school structures play in the perpetuation of racial inequality in American education Each volume validates the impact of race on teaching and learning and exposes the ways in which racism manifests itself in U S schools In addition practical recommendations are presented that may be used to confront and eradicate racism in education By exposing what happens when issues of race and racism are marginalized or ignored this collection will prepare readers to resist and perhaps finally overcome the racial inequality that plagues America s schools
