South Yemen's Independence Struggle Anne-Linda Amira Augustin, 2021-11-30 A bold firsthand account of one of the persistent Arab uprisings in Yemen At its beginning in 2007 the Southern Movement in South Yemen was a loose merger of different people most of them former army personnel and state employees of the People's Democratic Republic of Yemen PDRY who were forced from their jobs after the war in 1994 only four years after the unification between the PDRY and the Yemen Arab Republic This bold ethnographic account of a persistent Arab uprising in a rarely studied corner of the Middle East explores why the Southern Movement has grown so tremendously during the last decade and how it developed from a primarily social movement demanding social rights into a mass protest movement claiming independence for a state that had long vanished from the world map Anne Linda Amira Augustin asks why so many young people born after 1990 joined the movement and demanded the re establishment of a state that they had never themselves experienced At the core of South Yemeni resistance lies the transmission from generation to generation of a dominant counternarrative which may be seen as the continuation and rehabilitation of the PDRY's national narrative This narrative amplified through everyday communication in families and neighborhoods but also by media makers journalists school and university teachers civil society actors and by the movement's activists opposes the national unity narrative of the Republic of Yemen and intensifies the demands for an independent state

Dreaming of Freedom in South Africa David Johnson, 2019-10-14. Assembles for the first time the many different texts imagining the future after the end of apartheid. Explores the history of how the future in South Africa after the end of apartheid was imagined. Provides the first literary cultural history of South African speculative fiction. Studies the literary political cultures of the five major traditions of South African anti-colonial, anti-segregationist, anti-apartheid thought. Focusing on well-known and obscure literary texts from the 1880s to the 1970s, as well as the many manifestos and programmes setting out visions of the future, this book charts the dreams of freedom of five major traditions of anti-colonial and anti-apartheid resistance: the African National Congress, the Industrial and Commercial Workers Union, the Communist Party of South Africa, the Non-European Unity Movement, and the Pan-Africanist Congress. More than an exercise in historical excavation, Dreaming of Freedom in South Africa raises challenging questions for the post-apartheid present.

From Alliance to Union Joseph A. Kéchichian, 2016-05-24. After the conservative Arab Gulf Monarchies Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and the United Arab Emirates (UAE) joined forces on 25 May 1981 within the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC), few fathomed that security requirements on and around the Arabian Peninsula would be so precarious and for so long. To answer their search for permanent stability, Arab Gulf rulers erected a regional alliance that sought to integrate internal and regional defences, as well as strengthen their existing socio-economic ties. Several of the monarchies even hoped that co-ordination on foreign policy issues, over which near unanimity existed, could eventually lead to a full-fledged union, as envisaged in the organisation's founding charter. Between 1981 and 2015, these Arab Gulf monarchies experienced major socio-political transformations, resulting from upheavals throughout the Arab and Muslim worlds. The perceived necessity to bring about a full-fledged union has come into conflict with entrenched viewpoints from regimes that value traditional military, political roles and norms. In this new study, Joseph A. Kéchichian provides an evaluation of GCC States' military institutions to better evaluate whether a stable alliance is capable of enduring over the next few decades, and how civilian leaders perceive the role and influence of their military officers for the task. Kéchichian raises fundamental questions over internal, regional, and international threats, including an existential challenge emanating from the Islamic revolutionary government of Iran, and assesses how GCC professionals may be preparing to tackle them. He further elucidates on the best methods to meet security challenges, not only to secure political survival, but also to determine whether conservative Arab Gulf regimes can flourish outside an effective alliance The volume concludes with an examination of evolving civil military relations in the GCC States J.M. Coetzee and the Archive Marc Farrant, Kai Easton, Hermann Wittenberg, 2021-03-25 Making extensive use of the rich archival material contained within the Coetzee collections in Texas and South Africa from the earliest drafts and notebooks to the research notes and digital records that document his later career as both writer and academic this volume investigates the historical cultural and aesthetic contexts of Coetzee's oeuvre Cutting edge and interdisciplinary in approach the book looks both at the prolific archival traces of Coetzee's early and middle work as well as examines his more recent work which has yet to be archived and a wide range of materials beyond the manuscripts including family albums school notebooks and correspondence Navigating Coetzee's interests in areas as diverse as literature photography autobiography philosophy animals and embodied life this is also an exploration of the archive as both theory and practice It raises questions about the tensions contradictions and discoveries of archival research and suggests that a literary engagement with the past is crucial to a recovery of culture in the present
