Newburn Criminology 2nd Edition:

The Treatment and Rehabilitation of Offenders Iain Crow, 2001-07-23 Treatment and rehabilitation have been central to the development of criminal justice policy and have played an important role in the development of criminology. In recent years punishment and retribution have attracted more attention than rehabilitation but there has been a resurgence of interest in treatment and rehabilitation with indications that some things do work and an emphasis on evidence based policy making. It is also the belief of many that a penal policy without an adequate treatment strategy is unjust and a denial of human rights. In this book Iain Crow provides an accessible overview of the concepts of treatment and rehabilitation adopting a deliberately broad definition and considers the historic Criminology Tim Newburn, 2013 A comprehensive introduction to criminology this text provides the basis of study for the new undergraduate student of criminology and those who need a foundation knowledge of criminology in other relevant courses Routledge Handbook of Crime Science Richard Wortley, Aiden Sidebottom, Nick Tilley, Gloria Laycock, 2018-11-13 Crime science is precisely what it says it is the application of science to the phenomenon of crime. This handbook intended as a crime science manifesto showcases the scope of the crime science field and provides the reader with an understanding of the assumptions, aspirations and methods of crime science as well as the variety of topics that fall within its purview. Crime science provides a distinctive approach to understanding and dealing with crime one that is outcome oriented, evidence based and that crosses boundaries between disciplines. The central mission of crime science is to find new ways to cut crime and increase security. Beginning by setting out the case for crime science the editors examine the roots of crime science in environmental criminology and describe its key features. The book is then divided into two sections. The first section comprises chapters by disciplinary specialists about the contributions their sciences can make or have already made to crime science. Chapter 12 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license An Introduction to Criminal Psychology Russil Durrant, 2018-03-29 This book offers a clear up to date comprehensive and theoretically informed introduction to criminal psychology exploring how psychological explanations and approaches can be integrated with other perspectives drawn from evolutionary biology, neurobiology, sociology and criminology. Drawing on examples from around the world it considers different types of offences from violence and aggression to white collar and transnational crime and links approaches to explaining crime with efforts to prevent crime and to treat and rehabilitate offenders. This revised and expanded second edition offers a thorough update of the research literature and introduces several new features including detailed international case studies setting the scene for each chapter, promoting real world understanding of the topics under consideration, a fuller range of crime types covered with new chapters on property offending and white collar corporate and environmental crime, detailed individual chapters exploring prevention and rehabilitation previously covered in a single chapter in the first edition, an array of helpful features including learning objectives review and reflect checkpoints annotated lists of further reading and two new features Research in Focus and Criminal Psychology Through Film This textbook is essential reading for upper undergraduate students enrolled in courses on psychological criminology criminal psychology and the psychology of criminal behaviour Designed with the reader in mind student friendly and innovative pedagogical features support the reader throughout

The Making of Criminal Justice Policy Sue Hobbs, Christopher Hamerton, 2014-10-24 This new textbook will provide students of criminology with a better understanding of criminal justice policy and in doing so offers a framework for analysing the social economic and political processes that shape its creation The book adopts a policy oriented approach to criminal justice connecting the study of criminology to the wider study of British government public administration and politics Throughout the book the focus is on key debates and competing perspectives on how policy decisions are made Recognising that contemporary criminal justice policymakers operate in a highly politicised public arena under the gaze of an ever increasing variety of groups organisations and individuals who have a stake in a particular policy issue the book explores how and why these people seek to influence policymaking It also recognises that criminal policy differs from other areas of public policy as policy decisions affect the liberty and freedoms of citizens Throughout key ideas and debates are linked to wider sociology criminology and social policy theory Key features include a foreword by Tim Newburn leading criminologist and author of Criminology 2nd Edition 2013 a critical and informed analysis of the concepts ideas and institutional practices that shape criminal justice policy making an exploration of the relationship between criminal justice and wider social policy a critical analysis of the debate about how and why behaviour becomes defined as requiring a criminal justice solution a range of case studies tasks seminar questions and suggested further readings to keep the student engaged This text is perfect for students taking modules in criminology criminal justice and social and public policy as well as those taking courses on criminal and administrative law

Introduction to Policing Research Denise Martin, Stephen Tong, 2023-12-05 This book offers a first hand insight into the work of policing scholars and the research that they undertake Bringing together a range of leading scholars and drawing on a range of pressing topics it introduces the diverse nature of policing research and the ethical and practical challenges faced by policing researchers Each chapter brings clarity to the concept of empirical research within policing introduces readers to the theoretical explanations and assumptions that underpin the rational of research design in policing as well as considering the limitations of research Topics include research methods in police research police professionalisation police and diversity police leadership undercover policing police and vulnerability activist research social media and policing This revised and expanded new edition includes more focus on the role of research in policing police and academic partnerships and practitioners as researchers as well as a brand new section offering international perspectives on policing research Brimming with practical examples case studies key learning points and practical advice this book is essential reading for Professional Policing students as well as early career researchers and those engaged with criminological research methods Homicide Wayne Petherick, Natasha Petherick, 2018-12-03 Homicide examines the incidence and prevalence of homicide in major western nations covering the biological psychological and social roots of homicide from genetic and evolutionary perspectives but also considering emotions and the influence of peers Different types of homicide are discussed with final chapters covering tactics for investigation and homicide prevention Students and instructors in the areas of forensic science sociology criminology psychology psychiatry justice and criminal justice at the university level will find this book to be a comprehensive resource as will those researching homicide and related topics Realist Evaluation for Crime Science Graham Farrell, Aiden Sidebottom, 2018-10-17 This collection of essays published to mark the 20th anniversary of Realistic Evaluation celebrates the work of Professor Nick Tilley and his significant influence on the fields of policing crime reduction and evaluation With contributions from colleagues co authors and former students many of whom are leading scholars in their own right the thirteen essays which make up this volume contain both personal reflections and analysis of the prominent topics in Professor Tilley's forty years of scholarship

Panic City Martin J. Murray, 2020-03-10 Despite the end of white minority rule and the transition to parliamentary democracy Johannesburg remains haunted by its tortured history of racial segregation and burdened by enduring inequalities in income opportunities for stable work and access to decent housing Under these circumstances Johannesburg has become one of the most dangerous cities in the world where the yawning gap between the haves and have nots has fueled a turn toward redistribution through crime While wealthy residents have retreated into heavily fortified gated communities and upscale security estates the less affluent have sought refuge in retrofitting their private homes into safe houses closing off public streets and hiring the services of private security companies to protect their suburban neighborhoods Panic City is an exploration of urban fear and its impact on the city's evolving siege architecture the transformation of policing and obsession with security that has fueled unprecedented private consumption of protection services Martin Murray analyzes the symbiotic relationship between public law enforcement agencies private security companies and neighborhood associations wherein buyers and sellers of security have reinvented ways of maintaining outdated segregation practices that define the urban poor as suspects Secure Foundations Scott Ballintyne, Kenneth Pease, Vic McLaren, 2000 Youth and Crime

John Muncie, 2009-06-05 Youth research and criminology are the topics introduced by this book The work includes social histories the extent and causes of offending youth cultures social policy and the youth justice system Study questions are also provided Religion, Crime and Punishment Russil Durrant, Zoe Poppelwell, 2017-10-17 This book provides a critical discussion of the way in which religion influences criminal and antisocial behaviour punishment and the law intergroup conflict and peace making and the rehabilitation of offenders The authors argue that in order to understand how religion is related to each of these domains it is essential to recognise the evolutionary origins of religion as well as how genetic and cultural evolutionary processes have shaped its essential characteristics Durrant and Poppelwell posit that the capacity of religion to bind individuals into socially cohesive moral communities can help us to understand its complex relationship with cooperation crime punishment inter group conflict and forgiveness An original and innovative study this book will be of special interest to criminologists and other social scientists interested in the role of religion in crime punishment intergroup conflict and law

Understanding Crime and Social Policy Emma Wincup, 2013-05-30 Understanding crime and social policy explores the interface between crime and social policy drawing upon international theoretical developments and empirical research from within Criminology and Social Policy Written by an experienced author it uses analysis of policy making under the New Labour and Conservative Liberal Democrat governments to reflect upon the multiplicity of influences which shape the formulation and delivery of crime control policies the changing nature of government and governance in neo liberal societies and the enhanced role of the welfare state in solving crime problems A unique feature of the book is the inclusion of policy examples including the resettlement of prisoners problem drug use and troubled families Understanding crime and social policy encourages readers to reflect upon the close connections and sometimes tensions between crime reduction and social policy agendas and is aimed at two audiences The first is students on courses in criminology criminal justice and social policy The second is practitioners from across the public private and voluntary sector
