Had someone asked Melanie Sparks if she believed in ghosts she'd have laughed before voicing an emphatic No Then she takes a walking tour of the cemetery in her new hometown of Lindeman's Crossing Colorado and meets one of the residents face to face The story behind Andrew Lindeman's tragic death after the Pike's Peak Gold Rush in 1859 triggers dreams in which she relives his last moments Drawn to the handsome ghost attraction builds and she resolves to clear his tarnished name A passionate kiss sets his spirit free but will Melanie lose her heart forever Excerpt She started with the trail next to the river behind her cottage The walk along the South Platte River settled her nerves until she realized it'd looped through the park and led her back to the cemetery Her feet rooted to the spot outside the gate as she stared intently at that one specific shaded grave site Everything looked normal No shadow figures No shimmering air No voices in her head Most likely her subconscious had been playing with her yesterday Her imagination had been in overdrive after all the wonderful history she'd learned Still hesitant Melanie entered the deserted grounds and followed the path John had led the senior group along the day before Every so often she snuck a glance toward the black granite until at the end she once again stood in front of the stone Deep breath Let it out slow Everything s fine Squatting down she reached to touch the old worn stone sunk in the earth Cold As it should be Her gaze rose to the other one looming in front of her Nervous anticipation mixed with dread raising goose bumps on her arms like yesterday Much as she didn t want to touch its smooth surface she had to make sure Her hand trembled slightly as she extended her arm Cool Relief tingled through her entire body With one finger she traced the A in Andrew then flattened her palm over the name In a single instant the granite warmed almost to the point of burning her flesh She yanked her hand back with a gasp then nearly jumped out of her skin when a male figure materialized out of thin air right before her eyes Dark glittering eyes locked on her A scream froze in her throat and she found she couldn t breathe If she stayed still would it go away Her lungs burned She needed oxygen or she d faint Rising slowly she drew in a deep breath of air then concentrated on repeating the process until her legs steadied All the while her mind registered details The man of her dreams Tall Dark wavy hair worn long enough to hang over his forehead and brush the collar of his black shirt Eyes that at first glance appeared black but now she saw were a sexy slate gray His thick eyebrows shadowed them making them seem darker A hint of a five o clock shadow lent a sinister air yet she wasn t truly afraid of him You can see me The husky accusation washed over her

The Oxford Handbook of British Romantic Prose Robert Morrison, 2024-04-03 The Oxford Handbook of British Romantic Prose is a full length essay collection devoted entirely to British Romantic nonfiction prose Organized into eight parts each containing between five and nine chapters arranged alphabetically the Handbook weaves together familiar and unfamiliar texts events and authors and invites readers to draw comparisons reimagine connections and disconnections and confront frequently stark contradictions within British Romantic nonfiction prose but also in its relationship to British Romanticism more generally and to the literary practices and cultural contexts of other periods and countries The Handbook builds on previous scholarship in the field considers emerging trends and evolving methodologies and suggests future areas of study Throughout the emphasis is on lucid expression rather than gnomic declaration and on chapters that offer not a dutiful survey but evaluative assessments that keep an eye on the bigger picture yet also dwell meaningfully on specific paradoxes and the most telling examples Taken as a whole the volume demonstrates the energy originality and diversity at the crux of British Romantic nonfiction prose It vigorously challenges the traditional construction of the British Romantic movement as focused too exclusively on the accomplishments of its poets and it reveals the many ways in which scholars of the period are steadily broadening out and opening up delineations of British Romanticism in order to encompass and thoroughly evaluate the achievements of its nonfiction prose writers Type Rules

Textual Transformations in Children's Literature Benjamin Lefebvre, 2013-01-04 This book offers new critical approaches for the study of adaptations abridgments translations parodies and mash ups that occur internationally in contemporary children s culture It follows recent shifts in adaptation studies that call for a move beyond fidelity criticism a paradigm that measures the success of an adaptation by the level of fidelity to the original text toward a methodology that considers the adaptation to be always already in conversation with the adapted text This book visits children s literature and culture in order to consider the generic pedagogical and ideological underpinnings that drive both the process and the product Focusing on novels as well as folktales films graphic novels and anime the authors consider the challenges inherent in transforming the work of authors such as William Shakespeare Charles Perrault L M Montgomery Laura Ingalls Wilder and A A Milne into new forms that are palatable for later audiences particularly when for perceived ideological or political reasons the textual transformation is not only unavoidable but entirely necessary Contributors consider the challenges inherent in transforming stories and characters from one type of text to another across genres languages and time offering a range of new models that will inform future scholarship

Literature's Elsewheres Annette Gilbert, 2022-04-05 An examination of a series of diverse radical and experimental international works from the 1950s to the present What is a literary work In Literature's Elsewheres Annette Gilbert tackles this question by deploying an extended concept of literature examining a series of diverse radical experimental works from the 1950s to the present that occupy the liminal zone between art and literature These works by American Artist Allison Parrish Natalie Czech Stephanie Syjuco Fiona Banner Elfriede Jelinek Dan Graham Robert Barry George Brecht and others represent a pluralized literary practice that imagines a different literature emerging from its elsewheres Investigating a work s coming into being its transition from text to work as a social object and pragmatic category of literary communication Gilbert probes the assumptions and foundations that underpin literature including the ideologies and power structures that prop it up She offers a snapshot from a period of recent literary and art history when such central concepts as originality and authorship were questioned and experimental literary practices ranged from concrete poetry and Oulipo to conceptual writing and appropriation literature She examines works that are dematerialized site specific unique copies of other works and institutional critiques Considering the inequalities exclusions and privileges inscribed in literature she documents the power of experimental literature to attack these norms and challenges the field s canonical geographic boundaries by examining artists with roots in North and South America East Asia and Western and Eastern Europe The cross pollination of literary and art criticism enriches both fields With Literature's Elsewheres Gilbert explores what art can t see about the literary and what literature has overlooked in the arts
