Sideways Selves PJ DiPietro, 2025-07-22 How trans and non binary networks engage in decoloniality across hemispheres A deeply informed theoretically rich work of inquiry and critique Sideways Selves learns from two communities of migrants as they contest their marginalization under the colonial regime of gender colonial because as PJ DiPietro affirms Indigenous and Afro diasporic conceptions of embodiment have been displaced by the European Christian order of gender Following gender nonconforming Aymara Kolla and mixed race exiles in Buenos Aires and Kiche Nahua and Central American migrants in the San Francisco

Bay Area DiPietro takes stock of a collective transnational effort to reimagine ideas of personhood and kinship that gender makes unthinkable. The communities DiPietro studies create new kinds of identities collective and genderless in nature. Their ways of thinking and doing though radical are motivated by old wisdom, storytelling, healing, and religion. Brujer, a curanderismo, Voudoun, and other practices that colonialism, capitalism, and the nation state have unsuccessfully tried to erase. In equal measures philosophical and ethnographic. Sideways Selves witnesses and listens as these displaced people, displaced from their homes and from the moral geography of the West, show us what a just decolonial world could actually be.

Water for All Sarah T. Hines, 2021-12-14. Water for All chronicles how Bolivians democratized water access, focusing on the Cochabamba region which is known for acute water scarcity and explosive water protests. Sarah T. Hines examines conflict and compromises over water from the 1870s to the 2010s, showing how communities of water users increased supply and extended distribution through collective labor and social struggle. Analyzing a wide variety of sources from agrarian reform case records to oral history interviews, Hines investigates how water dispossession in the late nineteenth century and reclaimed water access in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries prompted, shaped, and strengthened popular and indigenous social movements. The struggle for democratic control over water culminated in the successful 2000 Water War, a decisive turning point for Bolivian politics. This story offers lessons for contemporary resource management and grassroots movements about how humans can build equitable, democratic, and sustainable resource systems in the Andes, Latin America, and beyond.

Cinema and the Sandinistas Jonathan Buchsbaum, 2010-01-01. Following the Sandinista Revolution in 1979, young bohemian artists rushed to the newly formed Nicaraguan national film institute INCINE to contribute to the recovery of national identity through the creation of a national film project. Over the next eleven years, the filmmakers of INCINE produced over seventy films, documentary, fiction, and hybrids that collectively reveal a unique vision of the Revolution, drawn not from official FSLN directives but from the filmmakers' own cinematic interpretations of the Revolution as they were living it. This book examines the INCINE film project and assesses its achievements in recovering a Nicaraguan national identity through the creation of a national cinema. Using a wealth of firsthand documentation, the films themselves, interviews with numerous INCINE personnel, and INCINE archival records, Jonathan Buchsbaum follows the evolution of INCINE's project and situates it within the larger historical project of militant revolutionary filmmaking in Latin America. His research also raises crucial questions about the viability of national cinemas in the face of accelerating globalization and technological changes which reverberate far beyond Nicaragua's experiment in revolutionary filmmaking.
