Experts, 2017-08-01 Book covers past 5 years questions 2013 2017 from previous GATE examinations The Moral Arc Michael Shermer, 2015-01-20 Bestselling author Michael Shermer s exploration of science and morality that demonstrates how the scientific way of thinking has made people and society as a whole more moral From Galileo and Newton to Thomas Hobbes and Martin Luther King Jr thinkers throughout history have consciously employed scientific techniques to better understand the non physical world The Age of Reason and the Enlightenment led theorists to apply scientific reasoning to the non scientific disciplines of politics economics and moral philosophy Instead of relying on the woodcuts of dissected bodies in old medical texts physicians opened bodies themselves to see what was there instead of divining truth through the authority of an ancient holy book or philosophical treatise people began to explore the book of nature for themselves through travel and exploration instead of the supernatural belief in the divine right of kings people employed a natural belief in the right of democracy In The Moral Arc Shermer will explain how abstract reasoning rationality empiricism skepticism scientific ways of thinking have profoundly changed the way we perceive morality and indeed move us ever closer to a more just world

Countering Economic Crime Axel Palmer, 2017-09-22 Economic crime is a significant feature of the UK's economic landscape and yet despite the government's bold mission statements to hold those suspected of financial wrongdoing to account as part of their day of reckoning and serious about white collar crime agenda there is a sense that this is still not being done effectively. This book examines the history of the creation of the UK's anti-economic crime institutions and accompanying legislation, providing a critique of their effectiveness. The book analyses whether the recent regulatory regime is fit for purpose as well as being appropriate for the future. In order to explore how the UK's economic crime strategies could be improved, the book takes a comparative approach, analysing policy and legislative responses to economic crime in the United States and Australia in order to determine whether the UK could or should import similar structures or laws to improve the enforcement of UK economic crime.

Public Law Adjudication in Common Law Systems John Bell, Mark Elliott, Jason NE Varuhas, Philip Murray, 2016-04-07 This volume arises from the inaugural Public Law Conference hosted in September 2014 by the Centre for Public Law at the University of Cambridge, which brought together leading public lawyers from a number of common law jurisdictions. While those from such jurisdictions share background understandings, significant differences within the common law world create opportunities for valuable exchanges of ideas and debate. This collection draws upon one of the principal sub-themes that emerged during the conference, namely the way in which relationships and distinctions between the notions of process and substance play out in relation to and inform adjudication in public law cases. The essays contained in this volume address those issues from a variety of perspectives. While the bulk of the chapters consider topical issues in judicial review, either on common law or human rights grounds, or both, other chapters adopt more theoretical, historical, empirical, or contextual approaches. Concluding chapters reflect generally on the papers in the collection and the value of facilitating cross-jurisdictional dialogue.

safety and build quality. What forms of redress from whom and by what route can residents expect when often long after completion of construction they discover defects? The resulting problems pose some big and difficult questions of principle and policy about standards, rights and remedies which in turn concern justice more generally. This book addresses these key issues in a comparative context across the United Kingdom, Ireland, Australia and New Zealand. It is an accessible guide to the existing law for residents and construction professionals and their legal advisers but also charts a course to further meaningful reforms of the legal landscape for residential construction around the world. The book's two co-authors, Philip Britton and Matthew Bell, have taught in the field in the UK, Australia and New Zealand; both have been active in legal practice as have the book's two specialist contributors, Deirdre Ní Fhlóinn and Kim Vernau.
