

Personal Values Essay Example

This paper is about personal values development. In this paper I will be examining my personal values, ground rules, and ethics development. Primarily a focus on developing these values, rules, and ethics will be discussed in the paper.

Included in this paper would be what my values are the sources that shaped my values, and the criteria and decision-making factors I make the most of to revise them. Finally I will discuss the potential impact of my values and performance in the workplace. What are personal values? Included are many definitions out there that can define values and how they can relate to ones personal beliefs. My definition would be what I believe and what I am against. My personal value is that I believe that I should provide a quality of life suitable for my family.

I believe that spending the most time with my family is important. I believe that a job should let one work from home. How did I develop these types of values? I believe I learned them from growing up in a family oriented home. I had a mother that stayed home and a father that worked. I believe most of my values where developed from how I grew up and what I learned throughout life.

How can I develop and improve values? By living and learning is a way to develop better values. I believe that a person can develop more and improve his or hers values by experiencing what is right or wrong and how someone handles those situations. Developing ground rules in relation to values and ethics are important. Rules can provide a path or guideline to be able to improve and develop more positive values. Rules can also enhance the ethical development that can be learned.

My rules would include if the values help me improve personally and professionally, and stick with the values. If the behavior is something I am against then I must understand why I am against the behavior. I believe that rules are important and should be followed which can help better shape someone's values. Ethics is defined as "a system of moral principles and the rules of conduct recognized in respect to a particular class of human actions or a particular group, culture, etc. " Values and ethics are varying much are intertwining with each other.

Ethics is a much bigger then just values. Ethics is a system of all the values and principles. How can I develop ethics? This question is hard to find an answer to right now. My answer would be I believe I would interconnect all my values and rules that I know o develop the ethics that are who I am.

I believe my development of ethics has just started by understanding what ethics are and understanding what are my values. Let's return to the first part of this paper when I explained a few of my values. What are my values? My values are that family comes first, and provide a lifestyle suitable as explained earlier. My values are more to my life then just that.

Values are what make who I am special and different. I bel

Values and Ontology Beatrice Centi,Wolfgang Huemer,2013-05-02 The articles in this volume discuss the relation between values and ontology focusing on the significance of ontology for ethics and aesthetics i e themes which due to the raising interest in ontology come to play a central role in contemporary philosophical debate The contributors address the questions of whether and in which sense values can be considered to be real whether it is possible to experience them and in which sense we can speak about their objective validity These topics which were also discussed by early phenomenologists like Brentano Meinong Ehrenfels proponents of Gestalt psychology like K hler by Husserl and by French phenomenologists like Merleau Ponty are approached by both historical and systematic analysis

The Science of Attitudes Joel Cooper,Shane Blackman,Kyle Keller,2015-09-16 The Science of Attitudes is the first book to integrate classic and modern research in the field of attitudes at a scholarly level Designed primarily for advanced undergraduates and graduate students the presentation of research will also be useful for current scholars in all disciplines who are interested in how attitudes are formed and changed. The treatment of attitudes is both thorough and unique, taking a historical approach while simultaneously highlighting contemporary views and controversies. The book traces attitudes research from the inception of scientific study following World War II to the issues and methods of research that are prominent features of today's research. Researchers in the field of attitudes will be particularly interested in classic and modern research on the organization, structure, strength, and function of attitudes. Researchers in the field of persuasion will be particularly interested in work on attitude change focusing on propositional and associative learning, metacognition, and dynamic theories of dissonance, balance, and reactance. The book is designed to present the integration of the properties of the attitude with the dynamic considerations of attitude change. The Science of Attitudes is also the first book on attitudes to devote entire chapters to work on implicit measurements, resistance to persuasion, and social neuroscience.

Storytelling for Sustainability in Higher Education Petra Molthan-Hill, Heather Luna, Tony Wall, Helen Puntha, Denise Baden, 2020-03-25 To be a storyteller is an incredible position from which to influence hearts and minds, and each one of us has the capacity to utilise storytelling for a sustainable future. This book offers unique and powerful insights into how stories and storytelling can be utilised within higher education to support sustainability literacy. Stories can shape our perspective of the world around us and how we interact with it, and this is where storytelling becomes a useful tool for facilitating understanding of sustainability concepts which tend to be complex and multifaceted. The craft of storytelling is as old as time and has influenced human experience throughout the ages. The conscious use of storytelling in higher education is likewise not new, although less prevalent in certain academic disciplines. What this book offers is the opportunity to delve into the concept of storytelling as an educational tool, regardless of and beyond the boundaries of subject area. Written by academics and storytellers, the book is based on the authors' own experiences of using stories within teaching, from a story of the Ecology of Law to the exploration of sustainability in accounting and finance via contemporary cinema. Practical advice in each chapter ensures that ideas may be put into practice with ease. In addition to examples from the classroom, the book also explores wider uses of storytelling for communication and sense-making and ways of assessing student storytelling work. It also offers fascinating research insights, for example in addressing the question of whether positive utopian stories relating to climate change will have a stronger impact on changing the behaviour of readers than will dystopian stories. Everyone working as an educator should find some inspiration here for their own practice on using storytelling and stories to co-design positive futures together with our students.
