Alive and Kicking David Bryce, 2011-11-04 From running with the infamous Calton Tongs to running Calton Athletic David Bryce's life story is a remarkable account of crime violence alcoholism and drug addiction in Glasgow's gangland A respected hard man Bryce worked his way through most of HM's prisons in Scotland before an epiphany in 1977 made him realise that he was a hopeless alcoholic who needed help A five year battle followed during which he sank into the abyss of heroin addiction before finally getting clean In 1985 in an effort to help others who were struggling against substance abuse Bryce set up Calton Athletic a football team and social group made up solely of recovering drug addicts Reformed gangster Jimmy Boyle was one of the first to have faith in Bryce and Calton Athletic but the club eventually won widespread respect Gordon Brown then a young MP was so impressed that he wrote an article for The Observer which led to a TV film starring Lenny Henry and Robbie Coltrane In the 90s Ewan McGregor Irvine Welsh and the Trainspotting crew sought Bryce's advice and friendship during the making of the internationally acclaimed cult film while Robbie Williams begged to switch nationality and play for Calton Athletic in an England v Scotland celebrity charity match Bryce's uncompromising belief that the only way to come off drugs is to go cold turkey and stay completely clean saw him clash with government agencies over the harm reduction policy of recent years The club's statutory funding was withdrawn in 1998 but today Calton Athletic are still providing an invaluable lifeline while the official drugs policy has become increasingly discredited Alive and Kicking is an inspirational tale of survival and success against the odds

Cup final brought the club its last major trophy prior to the appointment of Jock Stein as manager in 1965 and the glory years which followed. The triumph was the final major success achieved by such famous Celtic stars of the 50s as Charlie Tully, Neil Mochan, Willie Fernie, Bobby Evans, Bertie Peacock, Sean Fallon and Bobby Collins. Oh Hampden in the Sun not only tells the story of that remarkable game which still stands as the most emphatic victory in a national cup final in Britain but also commemorates Celtic, their players and supporters viewed in the social context of life in the West of Scotland 40 years ago. This book explores both the romance and the reality of Celtic and the club's supporters in that era through extensive interviews with players and fans supplemented by much original research. The mystery of the missing television film of the 7-1 match is finally solved and Celtic fans will be able to revel in a mass of anecdotes and reminiscences surrounding one of the greatest moments in their history and an indelible part of the club's folklore.
