house many of the fundamentally human experiences that have sustained us have disappeared In one hundred glimpses of that pre Internet world Pamela Paul editor of The New York Times Book Review presents a captivating record enlivened with illustrations of the world before cyberspace from voicemails to blind dates to punctuation to civility There are the small losses postcards the blessings of an adolescence largely spared of documentation the Rolodex and the genuine surprises at high school reunions But there are larger repercussions too weaker memories the inability to entertain oneself and the utter demolition of privacy 100 Things We've Lost to the Internet is at once an evocative swan song for a disappearing era and perhaps a guide to reclaiming just a little bit more of the world IRL
