Airports, Cities, and the Jet Age

Janet R. Bednarek, 2016-08-31 This book explores the relationship between cities and their commercial airports These vital transportation facilities are locally owned and managed and civic leaders and boosters have made them central to often expansive economic development dreams including the construction of architecturally significant buildings However other metropolitan residents have paid a high price for the expansion of air transportation as battles over jet aircraft noise resulted not only in quieter jet engine technologies but profound changes in the metropolitan landscape with the clearance of both urban and suburban neighborhoods And in the wake of 9 11 the US commercial airport has emerged as the place where Americans most fully experience the security regime introduced after those terrorist attacks

Holidays in the Danger

Zone Debbie Lisle, 2016-07-15 Holidays in the Danger Zone exposes the mundane and everyday interactions between two seemingly opposed worlds warfare and tourism Debbie Lisle shows how a tourist sensibility shapes the behavior of soldiers in war especially the experiences of Western military forces in exotic settings This includes not only R R but also how battlefields become landscapes of leisure and tourism She further explores how a military sensibility shapes the development of tourism in the postwar context from Dark Tourism engaging with displays of conflict and atrocity to exhibitions of conflict in museums and at memorial sites as well as advertising film journals guidebooks blogs and photography Focused on how war and tourism reinforce prevailing modes of domination Holidays in the Danger Zone critically examines the long historical arc of the war tourism nexus from nineteenth century imperialism to World War I and World War II from the Cold War to globalization and the War on Terror

Atmospheric Noise Marina Peterson,2021-02-05 In Atmospheric Noise Marina Peterson traces entanglements of environmental noise atmosphere sense and matter that cohere in and through encounters with airport noise since the 1960s Exploring spaces shaped by noise around Los Angeles International Airport LAX she shows how noise is a way of attuning toward the atmospheric through noise we learn to listen to the sky and imagine the permeability of bodies and matter sensing and conceiving that which is diffuse indefinite vague and unformed In her account the atmospheric encompasses the physicality of the ephemeral dynamic assemblages of matter as well as a logic of indeterminacy It is audible as well as visible heard as much as breathed Peterson develops a theory of indefinite urbanism to refer to marginalized spaces of the city where concrete meets sky windows resonate with the whine of departing planes and endangered butterflies live under flight paths Offering a conceptualization of sound as immanent and non objectified she demonstrates ways in which noise is central to how we know feel and think atmospherically

The End of Airports Christopher Schaberg,2015-11-19 If air travel was once the bold future it has now settled into a mundane on going present We no longer expect romantic experiences or sublime views but just hope that we get from here to there with minimal hassle In The End of Airports Christopher Schaberg suggests that even as the epoch of flight approaches a threshold of banality there are still mysteries to be unraveled around our aircraft and airfields Drawing from his own experiences working at an airport as well as interpreting these spaces from the perspective of a cultural critic Schaberg explores the secret lives of jet bridges seating areas concourses and tarmac vehicles showing how the ordinary objects of flight call for wonder and inquiry The End of Airports is not an obituary it s more like an ode to terminals in the digital age

to anthropological work on security It introduces the notion of security blurs to analyse manifestations of security that are visible and identifiable yet constructed and made up of a myriad and overlapping set of actors roles motivations values practices ideas materialities and power dynamics in their inception and performance The chapters address the entanglements and overlaps between a variety of state and non state security providers from the police and the military to vigilantes community organisations and private security companies The contributors offer rich ethnographic studies of everyday security practices across a range of cultural contexts and reveal the impact on the lives of ordinary citizens This book presents a new anthropological approach to security by explicitly addressing the overlap and entanglement of the practices and discourses of state and non state security providers and the associated forms of cooperation and conflict that permit an analysis of these actors activities as increasingly blurred

Security and Everyday Life Vida Bajc, Willem de Lint, 2011-03-09 This volume examines how security has recently re-emerged as the dominant ordering principle of social life The contributors detail recent institutional restructuring under this new ordering principle and analyze through specific case studies how it is shaping our public life locally and globally

Choreographing the Airport Justine Shih Pearson, 2017-12-12 This book investigates the global hub airport as an exemplar of cosmopolitan culture and space A machine made for movement itself perched at the crossroads of the world's incessant mobility the airport is both a symbol of and stage for the ways in which we construct and inhabit the world today Taking an ethnographically inflected approach this study brings together knowledge of the moving body from dance and performance and the study of systems of mobility within cultural and mobilities studies in order to call attention to the kinaesthetic experience of global space What is the choreography of the global airport How does it perform on us How do we perform within it Extending thinking about contemporary cosmopolitanism and cultural identity and the performativity of places and identities this book is essential reading for those interested in cultural debates around globalisation the innovative application of performance theory towards everyday experience and interdisciplinary methodologies

Making Spaces through Infrastructure Marian Burchardt, Dirk Laak, 2023-07-04 Infrastructures are fundamental means through which societies create spaces but little is known about the precise ways in which this occurs How have infrastructures animated certain understandings of space How do infrastructures stabilize or undermine the spatial formats in which we live which shape our everyday practices and which regulate access to services and resources And conversely how do spaces frame the ways infrastructural provision is organized How do existing spaces shape infrastructural development and the scope and forms of access to vital services such as transport and water In this volume historians and sociologists draw on a range of fascinating case studies and provide compelling answers to these questions Exploring among others the provision of irrigation water in nineteenth century Los Angeles the invention of airport transit zones and the infrastructural practices of homeless people in Berlin the book demonstrates how the making of spaces through infrastructure is deeply political Intent on revealing uneven geographies of provision and hierarchies of access the contributors highlight how infrastructures are products of global entanglements

Surveillance in the Time of Insecurity Torin Monahan, 2010 Threats of terrorism natural disaster identity theft job loss illegal immigration and even biblical apocalypse all are perils that trigger alarm in people today Although there may be a factual basis for many of these fears they do not simply represent objective conditions Feelings of insecurity are instilled by politicians and the media and sustained by urban fortification technological surveillance and economic vulnerability Surveillance in the Time of Insecurity fuses advanced theoretical accounts of state power and neoliberalism with original research from the social settings in which insecurity dynamics play out in the new century Torin Monahan explores the counterterrorism themed show 24 Rapture fiction traffic control centers security conferences public housing and gated communities and examines how each manifests complex relationships of inequality insecurity and surveillance Alleviating insecurity requires that we confront its mythic dimensions the politics inherent in new configurations of security provision and the structural obstacles to achieving equality in societies

The Politics of Postsecular Religion Ananda Abeysekara, 2008 Abeysekara contends that democracy along with its cherished secular norms is founded on the idea of a promise deferred to the future The belief that ethnic political identities such as Buddhist Hindu Sinhalese and Tamil can be critiqued neutralized improved and changed even if they remain inseparable from their genocidal pasts is rooted in democracy's messianic promise Abeysekara compels us to consider our ethical political legacies not as problems but as aporias in the Derridean sense contradictions or impasses that cannot be resolved Abeysekara locates distinct aporias in our modernity and situates them in the places and cultures of America France England Sri Lanka India and Tibet He presents concrete examples of religion in public life and calls into question the projects of refashioning the aporetic premises of liberalism and secularism

Dark Matters Simone Browne, 2015-09-17 In Dark Matters Simone Browne locates the conditions of blackness as a key site through which surveillance is practiced narrated and resisted She shows how contemporary surveillance technologies and practices are informed by the long history of racial formation and by the methods of policing black life under slavery such as branding runaway slave notices and lantern laws Placing surveillance studies into conversation with the archive of transatlantic slavery and its afterlife Browne draws from black feminist theory sociology and cultural studies to analyze texts as diverse as the methods of surveilling blackness she discusses from the design of the eighteenth century slave ship Brooks Jeremy Bentham's Panopticon and The Book of Negroes to contemporary art literature biometrics and post 9/11 airport security practices Surveillance Browne asserts is both a discursive and material practice that reifies boundaries borders and bodies around racial lines so much so that the surveillance of blackness has long been and continues to be a social and political norm
