

Population Distributions

How does population distribution affect the outcome?

Why?

Alaska encompasses 57 million acres of unoccupied forest land, it is the largest state in the United States, yet with a population of under 700,000 people, it has the lowest population density in America. Even when forests in one of the smallest states and forests in a population of nearly 7 million live within 100 miles of the 48 contiguous United States are considered, unoccupied forestland. What are the reasons for this high population density? How does population density affect forest management?
