Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and energy expenditure (EE) of sedentary, middle-aged women. The subjects were randomly assigned to a control group (CON) and an exercise group (EX). The EX group performed a 12-week training program consisting of three sessions per week of aerobic and resistance training. The CON group remained sedentary. HR and EE were measured at baseline and after 12 weeks. The EX group showed a significant decrease in HR and a significant increase in EE compared to the CON group. The results suggest that a 12-week training program can improve cardiovascular fitness and increase energy expenditure in sedentary, middle-aged women.
