Script Melancholia Lars Von Trier:

Lars von Trier Beyond Depression Linda Badley, 2022-02-15 Lars von Trier built a reputation as a provocateur from the start but in the late 2000s he entered an even more inflammatory phase Amid Cannes controversies Antichrist 2009 Melancholia 2011 Nymphomaniac 2013 14 and The House That Jack Built 2018 brandished the cinematic virtuosity von Trier once banned under the Dogme 95 Manifesto while subjecting audiences to extreme cinema Following von Trier's experience of clinical depression in 2006 and 2007 these films took an aggressively personal and retrospective turn against the backdrop of the director's controversy courting public appearances Playing against widespread assumptions Linda Badley takes a reparative approach offering an in depth examination of these four films and the contexts that produced them Drawing on numerous interviews with the director and his collaborators as well as inside access to archival materials she provides a thorough and comprehensive account of von Trier's preproduction and creative process Highlighting a transmedial turn Badley tracks von Trier's artistic touchstones from Wagner Proust and the Marquis de Sade to Scandinavian erotic cinema and serial killer genre tropes She considers his portrayals of mental illness and therapy gender and sexuality nature and extinction shedding light on the thematic concerns that unite these films as a distinct cycle Offering nuanced readings of these films the book emphasizes the significance of von Trier's work for current critical and philosophical debates showing how they engage with notions of the Anthropocene dark ecology and the postcinematic

The Temptation of Non-Being Artemy Magun,2024-05-02 Why do we enjoy artworks that depict disasters and suffering Is this a hangover from the Modernist impulse to break the rules of harmony Is there actually a proper way to perform negativity in art without resorting to nihilism The Temptation of Non Being uses these fundamental questions to paint a picture of contemporary art as beset by an outbreak of the negative and to construct a new theory of art as a medium of complex negativity The negative in art is explained not as a simple negation or destruction but as a multifaceted polymorphous structure with a vast range of strategies and techniques from parody and pastiche to defamiliarization and non resemblance Charting the depth of these negative practices Artemy Magun shows how they become progressively more complex and explicit illustrating them with interdisciplinary examples from Lars von Trier Jacek Malczewski Andrei Platonov and Fyodor Dostoyevsky At the heart of this layered nested structure lies an understanding of Modern aesthetics that helps to answer even more questions how can the testing probing nature of art lead to this preoccupation with the negative Why does this negativity emerge in the first place What can it tell us about art itself and how it functions in society This is an erudite and provocative analysis that enriches the ongoing evaluation of both high and low art

Cultivating Extreme Art Cinema Simon Hobbs,2018-08-01 Using paratextual theory to address the accusations of gimmickry often directed towards extreme art films Cultivating Extreme Art Cinema focuses upon the DVD and Blu ray object analysing how sleeve designs blurbs and special features shape the identity of the film

Sacrifice and Modern

Thought Julia Meszaros, Johannes Zachhuber, 2013-10-03 Sacrifice has always been central to the study of religion yet attempts to understand and assess the concept have usually been controversial The present book which is the result of several years of interdisciplinary collaboration suggests that in many ways the fascination with sacrifice has its roots in modernity itself Theological developments following the Reformation the rediscovery of Greek tragedies and the encounter with the practice of human sacrifice in the Americas triggered a complex and passionate debate in the sixteenth century which has never since abated Contributors to this volume leading experts from theology anthropology and literary and cultural studies describe and discuss how this modern fascination for the topic of sacrifice has evolved how it has shaped theological debate the literary imagination and anthropological theory Individual chapters discuss in depth major theological trajectories theories of sacrifice including those of Marcel Mauss and Ren Girard and current feminist criticism They engage with sacrifice in the context of religious and philosophical thought works of literature and film They explore different yet overlapping aspects of modernity's obsession with sacrifice The book does not intend to impose a single narrative over all these diverse contributions but brings them into a conversation around a common centre

Pettman,Eugene Thacker,2024-03-28 Everything is sad wrote the Ancient poets But is this sadness merely a human experience projected onto the world or is there a gloom attributable to the world itself Could the universe be forever weeping the tears of things In this series of meditations Dominic Pettman and Eugene Thacker explore some of the key negative affects both eternal and emergent associated with climate change environmental destruction and cosmic solitude In so doing they unearth something so obvious that it has gone largely unnoticed the question of how we should feel about climate change Between the information gathered by planetary sensors and the simple act of breathing the air new unsettling moods are produced for which we currently lack an adequate language Should we feel grief over the loss of our planet Or is the strange feeling of witnessing mass extinction an indicator that the planet was never ours to begin with Sad Planets explores this relationship between our all too human melancholia and a more impersonal sorrow nestled in the heart of the cosmic elements Spanning a wide range of topics from the history of cosmology to the existential threat of climate change this book is a reckoning with the limits of human existence and comprehension As Pettman and Thacker observe never before have we known so much about the planet and the cosmos and yet never before have we felt so estranged from that same planet to say nothing of the stars beyond Knowing It When You See It Patrick O'Donnell,2021-02-01 Perched as he was at the beginning of literary modernism and the evolution of film as a medium Henry James addressed a cluster of epistemological and aesthetic issues related to the visualization of reality In Knowing It When You See It Patrick O'Donnell compares several late novels and stories by Henry James with a series of films directed by Michael Haneke Alfred Hitchcock Quentin Tarantino Christopher Nolan and Lars Von Trier O'Donnell argues that these issues find parallels in films made at the other end of an arc extending from the last decades of the nineteenth century to the initial years of the twenty first In mapping affinities between literature and film he is not concerned with adaptation or discursivity but rather with how the visual is represented in two mediums with how seeing becomes knowledge how framing what is seen becomes a critical part of the story that is conveyed and how the perspective of the camera or the narrator shapes reality Both James and these later auteurs think visually in ways that inter illuminate their fictions and films and newly bring into relief the trajectory of modernity in relation to visuality
