Divorced from Number Thirty-Eight Elise Faber,2025-11-11 She s completely wrong for me But I m still going to claim her as my own Faye St James has only ever been my shy reclusive next door neighbor Until her house burns down and I find out that it s not just her home that catches fire Underneath all that shy is a woman who s smart and passionate and everything I've ever wanted. But my life is complicated. I'm on the road for half the year playing with the Grizzlies and I have an ex-wife who just won't go away. Clearly I'm in no position to fall in love. Only my heart seems to have a different plan. One that means never letting Faye go.

The Family Cooks Laurie David, 2014-04-22 A call to action for parents, kids and anyone who eats to start cooking their own meals again. For families eating right has become a monumental challenge. Cultural messages convince us that we no longer have time to cook and food marketers spend billions persuading us that packaged processed food is convenient, satisfying and the key to happiness. Half of all our meals are now eaten outside the home. The result: skyrocketing rates of heart disease and diabetes and unprecedented levels of childhood obesity. This crisis is movingly portrayed in author and activist Laurie David's new documentary, co-executive produced with Katie Couric, Fed Up. Luckily, we have a solution. Studies have clearly shown that eating home-cooked meals reduces obesity and develops lifelong healthy eating habits. There is an exciting movement afoot that involves a skillet, a few good knives and some fresh ingredients. Home cooking is making a comeback. In The Family Cooks, David inspires parents and kids to take control of what they eat by making it themselves. With her long-time collaborator Kirstin Uhrenholdt, David worked up more than 100 recipes that are simple, fast, low in the bad stuff and high in the good stuff and designed to bring kids into the cooking process. The authors also demystify cooking terms and break down basic prep techniques, creating stress-free meals that foster health, togetherness and happy palates. The Family Cooks is the ideal companion for unseasoned chefs of all stripes, whether they're parenting or being parented.
