from student to practitioner and far beyond with the information you need when you need it Experiences and Research on Enhanced Professional Development Through Faculty Learning Communities Blankenship, Rebecca J., Wiltsher, Cheree Y., Moton, Brandon A., 2022-06-24 Faculty learning communities are a fairly new ideology that is gaining traction among educators and institutions. These communities have numerous benefits on professional development such as enhancing educator preparedness and learning. The possibilities of these communities are endless; however, further study is required to understand how these learning communities work and the best practices and challenges they face. Experiences and Research on Enhanced Professional Development Through Faculty Learning Communities shares the experiences and research related to the enhanced professional development received by university faculty and staff participating in a series of collaborative faculty learning communities. The book, using qualitative, quantitative, and mixed methodologies, considers educator experiences as participants in the faculty learning communities, what they learned, and how they applied and implemented best practices in their courses. Covering topics such as curricula, course design, and rubrics, this reference book is ideal for administrators, higher education professionals, program developers, program directors, researchers, academicians, scholars, practitioners, instructors, and students. Effective Teaching Community College of Vermont, 2004-01-31 Throughout this guide, you will find specific strategies for teaching the kind of practical advice that circulates among veteran teachers whenever they gather together. Page 1 Teaching Communication and Media Studies Jan Fernback, 2014-11-20 Designed for communication media educators and graduate students, Teaching Communication and Media Studies is a practical and conceptual guide to teaching university courses in communication and media studies. Relying on her extensive experience instructing graduate students on the ins and outs of teaching, Jan Fernback discusses theoretical and applied topics central to contemporary mediated communication instruction, offering instructors at all levels strategies they can use to create a successful classroom experience. Fernback also considers the logic design and delivery of courses in communication and media studies while encouraging readers to reflect on their own strategic pedagogical decisions. Supplemented with interviews of successful communication instructors and sample exercises, this book is a must-have resource for all those teaching communication and media studies courses regardless of level of experience. Teaching for EcoJustice Rita J. Turner, 2015-05-22 Teaching for EcoJustice is a unique resource for exploring the social roots of environmental problems in humanities-based educational settings and a curriculum guidebook for putting EcoJustice Education into practice. It provides model curriculum materials that apply the principles of EcoJustice Education, giving pre- and in-service teachers the ability to review examples of specific secondary and post-secondary classroom assignments, lessons, discussion prompts, and strategies that encourage students to think critically about how modern problems of sustainability and environmental destruction have developed their root causes and how they can be addressed. The author describes instructional methods she uses when teaching each lesson and shares insights from evaluations of the materials in her classroom and by other teachers Interspersed between lessons is commentary about the rationale behind the materials and observations about their effect on students Teaching Intensive and Accelerated Courses Raymond J.

Wlodkowski, Margery B. Ginsberg, 2010-08-09 In this comprehensive resource Raymond J Wlodkowski and Margery B Ginsberg describe how to meet the challenge of teaching intensive and accelerated courses to nontraditional learners and working adults By making motivation and cultural relevance essential to instruction they clearly show what instructors can do to enhance learning in classes that can last from three to six hours Teaching Intensive and Accelerated Courses makes full use of the authors twenty years of experience researching and teaching accelerated courses along with selected strategies from Wlodkowski s classic Enhancing Adult Motivation to Learn to offer tried and true practices instructors can use to provide continuously engaging learning Engaging Ideas John C.
