What was the relative significance of the causes of global conflict from 1900 to the present?

Key Concepts:

Rapid advances in science and technology altered the understanding of the universe and the natural world and led to advances in communication, transportation, industry, agriculture, and medicine.

Peoples and states around the world challenged the existing political and social order in varying ways, leading to unprecedented worldwide conflicts.

The West dominated the global political order at the beginning of the 20th century, but both land-based and maritime empires gave way to new states by the century's end.

The older, land-based Ottoman, Russian, and Qing empires collapsed due to a combination of internal and external factors. These changes in Russia eventually led to communist revolution. Second, how will adding religion to the discourse on international relations modify our theoretical understanding? Each of these leading authors addresses different aspects of these questions in different contexts, providing a diverse and multifaceted view of the topic. Susanna Pearce and Tanja Ellingsen examine the religious causes of conflict on the macro level. Several of the contributors focus on specific conflicts. The Gaurav Ghose and Patrick James examine the Kashmir conflict from the Pakistani perspective, and Carolyn James and Ozgur Ozdamar examine it from the Indian perspective. Similarly, Hillel Frisch examines the Palestinian-Israeli conflict from the Palestinian perspective, and Jonathan Rynhold examines it from the Israeli perspective. Finally, two of the authors examine other important issues. Stuart Cohen examines the evolution of the religious view of war in the Jewish tradition, and Yehudit Auerbach examines whether it can play a role in conflict resolution and reconciliation. These assessments deliver fascinating conclusions.
