Reading Rhetorically 3rd Edition:

Reading Rhetorically John C. Bean, Virginia A. Chappell, Alice M. Gillam, 2011 Offering concise yet thorough treatment of academic reading and writing Reading Rhetorically 3rd ed shows the reader how to analyze texts by recognizing rhetorical strategies and genre conventions and how to incorporate other writers texts into their own research based papers The Viability of the Rhetorical Tradition Richard Graff, Arthur E. Walzer, Janet M. Atwill, 2012-02-01 The Viability of the Rhetorical Tradition reconsiders the relationship between rhetorical theory practice and pedagogy Continuing the line of questioning begun in the 1980s contributors examine the duality of a rhetorical canon in determining if past practice can make us more or less able to address contemporary concerns Also examined is the role of tradition as a limiting or inspiring force rhetoric as a discipline rhetoric s contribution to interest in civic education and citizenship and the possibilities digital media offer to scholars of rhetoric Teaching Literature Rhetorically Jennifer Fletcher, 2023-10-10 English language arts teachers often find themselves defending their discipline and the practical values it has When will I read this again is an all too common question heard in classrooms Author Jennifer Fletcher faced the same questions and more In Teaching Literature Rhetorically Transferable Literacy Skills for 21st Century Students she shows you how to help your students develop transferable literacy skills that allow them to succeed not just in their English language arts classes but in their future lives and careers The book is built around eight high utility literacy skills and practices that will help students communicate effectively and with confidence as they navigate important transitions in their lives Integrating skills and knowledge from texts Reading closely and critically Assessing rhetorical situations Negotiating different perspectives Developing and supporting a line of reasoning Analyzing genres Communicating with self and others in mind Reading and writing with passion Teaching Literature Rhetorically offers readers writing prompts readings discussion questions graphic organizers as well as examples of student work and activities for helping students to understand key rhetorical concepts As Fletcher writes in her introduction rhetorical thinking promotes the transfer of learning the single most important goal we can have as teachers if we hope to have a positive impact on our students lives This book will help teachers everywhere do just that Academic Writing, Third Edition Steven C. Roe, Pamela H. den Ouden, 2018-04-26 Now in its third edition Academic Writing offers a succinct and practical introduction to the development of research papers across the disciplines Structured around contemporary genre theory which establishes the importance of context for effective communication the text describes the writing process step by step including how to formulate a topic gather and properly document sources develop strong proposals introductions core paragraphs and conclusions and refine the final draft Additionally readers will observe the progress and thought processes of Jenna a first year student as she crafts her own paper New to this edition are materials for instructors that include full length research papers PowerPoint slides an exam bank and ideas for study Rich with such pedagogical features as chapter learning objectives annotated passages that illustrate aspects of academic style and a glossary Academic Writing is a must have textbook for students developing their research and writing skills

Reconnecting Reading and Writing Alice S. Horning, Elizabeth W. Kraemer, 2013-09-06 Reconnecting Reading and Writing explores the ways in which reading can and should have a strong role in the teaching of writing in college Reconnecting Reading and Writing draws on broad perspectives from history and international work to show how and why reading should be reunited with writing in college and high school classrooms It presents an overview of relevant research on reading and how it can best be used to support and enhance writing instruction Reading Rhetorical Texts James Robertson Andrews, Michael C. Leff, Robert Terrill, 1997 This book is designed to orient the beginning student to the nature and function of rhetorical criticism to acquaint the student with those elements in the rhetorical situation that warrant serious attention and to teach the student a useful strategy with which to begin to practice criticism The focus of this book is clearly on public speeches Along with mastering basic concepts the beginning critic will also be given the opportunity to begin grappling with fundamental and enduring critical issues The authors have included in this book texts and examples of how critics have studied those texts They also offer two historical texts along with their own critical readings of those texts The book then presents two texts and illustrations of the various critical responses to these texts The first text is Richard Nixon's Address on the Vietnam War and the second is Jesse Jackson's Common Ground and Common Sense Finally several examples of critical readings by rhetorical scholars illustrate different ways to approach texts Pref Teaching Arguments Jennifer Fletcher, 2023-10-10 No matter where students live after graduation one of the most essential tools we can teach them is how to comprehend analyze and respond to arguments Students need to know how writers and speakers' choices are shaped by elements of the rhetorical situation including audience occasion and purpose In Teaching Arguments Rhetorical Comprehension Critique and Response Jennifer Fletcher provides teachers with engaging classroom activities writing prompts graphic organizers and student samples to help students at all levels read write listen speak and think rhetorically Fletcher believes that with appropriate scaffolding and encouragement all students can learn a rhetorical approach to argument and gain access to rigorous academic content Teaching Arguments opens the door and helps them pay closer attention to the acts of meaning around them to notice persuasive strategies that might not be apparent at first glance When we analyze and develop arguments we have to consider more than just the printed words on the page We have to evaluate multiple perspectives the tension between belief and doubt the interplay of reason character and emotion the dynamics of occasion audience and purpose and how our own identities shape what we read and write Rhetoric teaches us how to do these things Teaching Arguments will help students learn to move beyond a superficial response to texts so they can analyze and craft sophisticated persuasive arguments a major cornerstone for being not just college and career ready but ready for the challenges of the world Sourcebook on Rhetoric James Jasinski, 2001-07-19 This book is designed to introduce readers to the language of contemporary rhetorical studies The book format is an alphabetized glossary with appropriate cross listings of key terms and concepts in contemporary rhetorical studies An introductory chapter outlines the definitional ambiguities of the central concept of rhetoric itself The primary emphasis is on the contemporary tradition of rhetorical studies as it has emerged in the discipline of speech communication Each entry in the glossary ranges in length from a few paragraphs to a short essay of a few pages Where appropriate examples are provided to further illustrate the term or concept Each entry will be accompanied by a list of references and additional readings to direct the reader to other materials of possible interest

Forum, 1982 English Teaching Forum, 2000 The Rhetoric of Operation Rescue Mark Allan Steiner, 2006-05-12 A close look at the rhetoric of Operation Rescue Working with Academic Literacies Theresa Lillis, Kathy Harrington, 2015-11-04 The editors and contributors to this collection explore what it means to adopt an academic literacies approach in policy and pedagogy Transformative practice is illustrated through case studies and critical commentaries from teacher researchers working in a range of higher education contexts from undergraduate to postgraduate levels across disciplines and spanning geopolitical regions including Australia Brazil Canada Catalu a Finland France Ireland Portugal South Africa the United Kingdom and the United States

Rhetorical Power Steven Mailloux, 2018-08-06 In this provocative and forcefully written book Steven Mailloux takes issue with the validity of a number of distinctions commonly made in contemporary literary theory and cultural studies distinctions between theory and history reader and text truth and ideology aesthetics and politics Mailloux first presents the case for a rhetorical hermeneutics and against foundationalist theories of interpretation Doing hermeneutic theory he argues entails doing rhetorical history By means of a detailed analysis of reader response criticism he highlights the connections between institutional politics and the interpretive rhetoric of academic literary criticism Mailloux then uses Adventures of Huckleberry Finn as an exemplary text Relating Mark Twain s rhetoric to the cultural politics of post Reconstruction debates about racist ideology he places his reader oriented interpretation within the rhetorical history of controversies over the meaning and value of Huckleberry Finn Finally in a far ranging study of cultural reception he juxtaposes the twentieth century concern about the topic of race in Huckleberry Finn with the nineteenth century audience s very different concerns about juvenile delinquency and the bad boy boom In the final part of the book Mailloux restates his critique of foundationalist hermeneutics through readings of Ken Kesey Michel Foucault Edward Said and Richard Rorty and he concludes by examining the role of rhetoric and theory in a congressional dispute over the Reagan administration s reinterpretation of the Anti Ballistic Missile Treaty Rhetorical Power will be welcomed by readers in literary theory and American studies as well as in such fields as speech communication the sociology of culture and social and intellectual history and by others interested in the politics of persuasion

Rhetoric and Drama in the Johannine Lawsuit Motif George L. Parsenios, 2010 George L Parsenios explores the legal character of the Gospel of John in the light of classical literature especially Greek drama Johannine interpreters have explored with increasing interest both the legal quality and the dramatic quality of the Fourth Gospel but often do not connect these two ways of reading John Some interpreters even assume that the one approach excludes the other and that John is either legal or dramatic but not both Legal rhetoric and tragic drama however were joined throughout antiquity in a complex pattern of mutual influence To connect John to drama therefore is to connect John to legal rhetoric and doing so helps to see even more clearly the pervasiveness of the legal motif in the Gospel of John Tracing the legal character of seeking in Sophocles Oedipus Rex for example sheds new light on the legal character of seeking in the Fourth Gospel especially in the enigmatic comment of Jesus at John 8 50 New insights are also offered regarding the evidentiary character of the signs of Jesus based on comparison with Aristotle s comments about signs and rhetorical evidence in both the Poetics and Rhetoric as well as by comparison with plays by Aeschylus Sophocles and Euripides To call the signs of Jesus evidence however does not remove them from the dialectical tension inherent in Johannine theology If the signs are evidence they are evidence in a world in which the basis of forming judgments has been problematized by the appearance of the Word in the flesh The

Handbook of Global Interventions in Communication Theory Yoshitaka Miike,Jing Yin,2022-03-10 Moving beyond the U S Eurocentric paradigm of communication theory this handbook broadens the intellectual horizons of the discipline by highlighting underrepresented especially non Western theorists and theories and identifies key issues and challenges for future scholarship Showcasing diverse perspectives the handbook facilitates active engagement in different cultural traditions and theoretical orientations that are global in scope but local in effect It begins by exploring past efforts to diversify the field continuing on to examine theoretical concepts models and principles rooted in local cumulative wisdom It does not limit itself to the mass interpersonal communication divide but rather seeks to frame theory as global and inclusive in scope The book is intended for communication researchers and advanced students with relevance to scholars with an interest in theory within information science library science social and cross cultural psychology multicultural education social justice and social ethics international relations development studies and political science Adaptive Rhetoric Alex C. Parrish,2013-11-07 Rhetorical scholarship has for decades relied solely on culture to explain persuasive behavior While this focus allows for deep explorations of historical circumstance it neglects the powerful effects of biology on rhetorical behavior how our bodies and brains help shape and constrain rhetorical acts Not only is the cultural model incomplete but it tacitly endorses the fallacy of human exceptionalism By introducing evolutionary biology into the study of rhetoric this book serves as a model of a biocultural paradigm Being mindful of biological and cultural influences allows for a deeper view of rhetoric one that is aware of the ubiquity of persuasive behavior in nature Human and nonhuman animals and even some plants persuade to survive to live love and cooperate That this broad spectrum of rhetorical behavior exists in the animal world demonstrates how much we can learn from evolutionary biology By incorporating scholarship on animal signaling into the study of rhetoric the author explores how communication has evolved and how numerous different species of animals employ similar persuasive tactics in order to overcome similar problems This cross species study of rhetoric allows us to trace the origins of our own persuasive behaviors providing us with a deeper history of rhetoric that transcends the written and the televised and reveals the artifacts of our communicative past

Doing News Framing Analysis Paul D'Angelo, Jim A. Kuypers, 2010-02-26 Doing News Framing Analysis provides an interpretive guide to news frames what they are how they can be observed in news texts and how framing effects are uncovered and substantiated in cultural group and individual sites Chapters feature framing analysts reflecting on their own empirical work in research classroom and public settings to address specific aspects of framing analysis Taken together the collection covers the full range of ways in which framing has been theorized and applied across topics sources mechanisms and effects This volume fosters understanding among the scholarly camps of framing scholars and encourages greater clarity from framing analysts in all aspects of their empirical inquiry Chapters offer fresh perspectives from which researchers can begin new research programs puzzle through perplexing problems in a current research program or expand an existing program Providing conceptual and methodological guidance Doing News Framing Analysis will help framing researchers at all levels to better understand news framing and to improve their future news framing research

Television Criticism Victoria O'Donnell, 2007 Television Criticism presents an original treatment of television criticism with a foundational approach to the nature of criticism an understanding of the business of television production background in creating television style in depth chapters on storytelling and narrative theories and television genres the interaction of rhetoric and cultural studies theories representation and postmodernism It presents new and comprehensive guidelines for analysis and criticism and it has a sample critique of the television program CSI Crime Scene Investigation
