residents policymakers and officials Stuber shows that what resolves the math equation between incomes and home values in Aspen Colorado the X factor that makes middle class life possible is the careful orchestration of diverse class interests within local politics and the community She explores how this is achieved through a highly regulatory and extractive land use code that provides symbolic and material value to highly affluent investors and part year residents as well as less affluent locals many of whom benefit from an array of subsidies including an extensive affordable housing program that redistribute economic resources in ways that make it possible for middle class residents to live there Stuber further examines how Latinos who provide much of the service work in Aspen and who tend to live outside the town fit into the social geography of one of the most unequal places in the country Overall Stuber argues that the Aspen s ability to balance the interests of its diverse class constituencies is not a foregone conclusion rather it is the result of efforts by local stakeholders citizens government developers and vacationers to preserve the town s unique feel and value and keep Aspen Aspen in all its complex dynamics
