Risk General Stanley McChrystal, Anna Butrico, 2021-10-05 From the bestselling author of Team of Teams and My Share of the Task an entirely new way to understand risk and master the unknown Retired four star general Stan McChrystal has lived a life associated with the deadly risks of combat From his first day at West Point to his years in Afghanistan to his efforts helping business leaders navigate a global pandemic McChrystal has seen how individuals and organizations fail to mitigate risk Why Because they focus on the probability of something happening instead of the interface by which it can be managed In Risk General McChrystal offers a battle tested system for detecting and responding to risk Instead of defining risk as a force to predict McChrystal and coauthor Anna Butrico show that there are in fact ten dimensions of control we can adjust at any given time Drawing on examples ranging from military history to the business world and offering practical exercises to improve preparedness McChrystal illustrates how these ten factors are always in effect and how by considering them individuals and organizations can exert mastery over every conceivable sort of risk that they might face We may not be able to see the future but with McChrystal's hard won guidance we can improve our resistance and build a strong defense against what we know and what we don't

Hollywood and the Great Depression Iwan Morgan, 2016-10-27 Examines how Hollywood responded to and reflected the political and social changes that America experienced during the 1930s. In the popular imagination 1930s Hollywood was a dream factory producing escapist movies to distract the American people from the greatest economic crisis in their nation's history. But while many films of the period conform to this stereotype, there were a significant number that promoted a message either explicitly or implicitly in support of the political, social, and economic change broadly associated with President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal programme. At the same time, Hollywood was in the forefront of challenging traditional gender roles both in terms of movie representations of women and the role of women within the studio system. With case studies of actors like Shirley Temple, Cary Grant, and Fred Astaire, as well as a selection of films that reflect politics and society in the Depression decade, this fascinating book examines how the challenges of the Great Depression impacted on Hollywood and how it responded to them. Topics covered include: How Hollywood offered positive representations of working women; Congressional investigations of big studio monopolization over movie distribution; How three different types of musical genres related in different ways to the Great Depression: the Warner Bros. Great Depression Musicals of 1933, the Astaire-Rogers movies, and the MGM kid musicals of the late 1930s; The problems of independent production exemplified in King Vidor's Our Daily Bread; Cary Grant's success in developing a debonair screen persona amid Depression conditions.
