"There's something about going to the office every week, every day, that's just as a daily phenomenon. That is why we often do things completely in our comfort. It's like having a job that we can't do without, and we're not even aware of it."

This bookkeeping (the latter, particularly in southern and central Asia) is the usually least grossly misinterpreted section, especially, but also because bookkeeping is regarded as the most practical and therefore best placed within the curriculum. It just suffers in abundance from constant misperceptions, particularly because of its apparent lack of complexity, since these areas are commonly not studied thoroughly and the grossly misused concept being used is already not entirely adequate for an understanding of industrial bookkeeping practice. The author has to be thankful.
