Gillian Clark abandoned the corporate world to pursue her passion making mouthwatering food with fresh homegrown ingredients. When she became a single parent with two young daughters, though Gillian had to reconsider her dreams. Moving to the country and running a small artisanal farm were put on the back burner; supporting her family had to come first. But Gillian's drive to make delicious food was relentless. She finished her culinary degree, survived the tedious prep work of her first cooking job, and the difficulty of training during the day and raising two girls at night, and confronted the challenges of working her way up from the bottom in a profession where only the strongest survive. Beating intense odds, Gillian is now head chef and proprietor of the successful and popular Colorado Kitchen, which is ranked among the top 100 restaurants in Washington D.C. This puts her simple café in the company of the city's finest dining establishments. Touching and joyful. Out of the Frying Pan rivals any parenting book and is also chock full of more than forty delicious recipes from her first soup of the day to her family's Sunday brunch waffles, even the pink medicine placebo she whipped up for one of her daughters. Her inspirational advice on how she raised her daughters while never giving up her dream is a gem for parents and foodies alike and will fit at just about any table.
