Encyclopedia of African American Business History Juliet E. K. Walker,1999-11-30 Black business activity has been sustained in America for almost four centuries From the marketing and trading activities of African slaves in Colonial America to the rise of 20th century black corporate America African American participation in self employed economic activities has been a persistent theme in the black experience Yet unlike other topics in African American history the study of black business has been limited General reference sources on the black experience with their emphasis on social cultural and political life provide little information on topics related to the history of black business This invaluable encyclopedia is the only reference source providing information on the broad range of topics that illuminate black business history Providing readily accessible information on the black business experience the encyclopedia provides an overview of black business activities and underscores the existence of a historic tradition of black American business participation Entries range from biographies of black business people to overview surveys of business activities from the 1600s to the 1990s including slave and free black business activities and the Black Wallstreet to coverage of black women s business activities and discussions of such African American specific industries as catering funeral enterprises insurance and hair care and cosmetic products Also there are entries on blacks in the automotive parts industry black investment banks black companies listed on the stock market blacks and corporate America civil rights and black business and black athletes and business activities

Rock and Tempest Patricia Collins,2024-06-26 When Cyclone Tracy flattened Darwin on Christmas Day 1974 it was the worst natural disaster Australians had ever experienced Stationed in the city with the Women s Royal Australian Naval Service Patricia Collins not only lived through Tracy but was part of the massive clean up effort This is her extraordinary story The experience of living through a terrifying natural disaster is chillingly told by Collins as she recounts her own dark hours that Christmas along with those of her contemporaries They sat huddled in doorways and bathtubs as the winds raged lifting off roofs picking up cars and sinking ships Most of the city was destroyed Seventy one people died The Navy suffered terrible losses A patrol boat was sunk with the loss of two crewmen and another was driven onto rocks A sailor lost his wife and two children and another lost his young son In the days after Tracy the majority of Darwin s population was evacuated interstate as the Navy s Task Force arrived to clean up and rebuild Collins was there as a survivor of Tracy and now an integral part of the recovery Rock and Tempest contains astonishing first person accounts of terror and uncertainty as well as courage and survival It is fascinating and moving and absolutely essential reading
