middle school grades 5-8 students. These divisions reflect various differences between emerging, competent, and fluent writers. In each section you will find a generous collection of craft lessons directed at the genre that is most appropriate for that particular age. In the K-2 section, for example, a number of craft lessons focus on the all-about or concept book. In the 3-4 section, there are several lessons on biography. In the 5-8 section, a series of lessons addresses expository writing. Throughout the book, each of the 80 lessons is presented on a single page in an easy-to-read format. Every lesson features three teaching guidelines: Discussion (a brief look at the reasons for teaching the particular element of craft specifically in a nonfiction context), How to Teach It (concrete language showing exactly how a teacher might bring this craft element to students in writing conferences or a small group setting), and Resource Material (specific book or text referred to in the craft lesson, including trade books or a piece of student writing in the Appendixes). This book will help students breathe voice into lifeless dump-truck writing and improve their nonfiction writing by making it clearer, more authoritative, and more organized. Nonfiction Craft Lessons gives teachers a wealth of practical strategies to help students grow into strong writers as they explore and explain the world around them. Be sure to look at the When Students Write videotapes too.

Reading Programs for Young Adults. Martha Seif Simpson, 2015-11-16. School and public libraries often provide programs and activities for children in preschool through the sixth grade, but there is little available to young adults. For them, libraries become a place for work, the place to research an assignment or find a book for a report, but the thought of the library as a place for enjoyment is lost. So how do librarians recapture the interest of teenagers? This just might be the answer. Here you will find theme-based units such as Cartoon Cavalcade, Log On at the Library, Go in Style, Cruising the Mall, Space Shots, Teens on TV, and 44 others that are designed for young adults. Each includes a display idea, suggestions for local sponsorship of prizes, a program game to encourage participation, 10 theme-related activities, curriculum tie-in activities, sample questions for use in trivia games or scavenger hunts, ideas for activity sheets, a bibliography of related works, and a list of theme-related films. The units are highly flexible, allowing any public or school library to adapt them to their particular
