Explanation in Ethics and Mathematics Uri D. Leibowitz, Neil Sinclair, 2016 How far should our realism extend For many years philosophers of mathematics and philosophers of ethics have worked independently to address the question of how best to understand the entities apparently referred to by mathematical and ethical talk But the similarities between their endeavours are not often emphasised This book provides that emphasis In particular it focuses on two types of argumentative strategies that have been deployed in both areas The first debunking arguments aims to put pressure on realism by emphasising the seeming redundancy of mathematical or moral entities when it comes to explaining our judgements In the moral realm this challenge has been made by Gilbert Harman and Sharon Street in the mathematical realm it is known as the Benacerraf Field problem The second strategy indispensability arguments aims to provide support for realism by emphasising the seeming intellectual indispensability of mathematical or moral entities for example when constructing good explanatory theories This strategy is associated with Quine and Putnam in mathematics and with Nicholas Sturgeon and David Enoch in ethics Explanation in Ethics and Mathematics addresses these issues through an explicitly comparative methodology which we call the companions in illumination approach By considering how argumentative strategies in the philosophy of mathematics might apply to the philosophy of ethics and vice versa the papers collected here break new ground in both areas For good measure two further companions for illumination are also broached the philosophy of chance and the philosophy of religion Collectively these comparisons light up new questions arguments and problems of interest to scholars interested in realism in any area

Oxford Studies in Metaethics 13 Russ Shafer-Landau, 2018-07-18 Oxford Studies in Metaethics is the only publication devoted exclusively to original philosophical work in the foundations of ethics It provides an annual selection of much of the best new scholarship being done in the field Its broad purview includes work being done at the intersections of ethical theory with metaphysics epistemology philosophy of language and philosophy of mind The essays included in the series provide an excellent basis for understanding recent developments in the field those who would like to acquaint themselves with the current state of play in metaethics would do well to start here

Reason and Responsibility 15th Ed Feinberg, 2013 The Legacy of Hans Jonas Hava Tirosh-Samuelson, Christian

Wiese,2008-08-31 Hans Jonas 1903 1993 was one of the most creative and original Jewish thinkers of the twentieth century This volume offers a retrospective of Jonas s life and works by bringing together historians of modern Germany Judaica scholars philosophers bioethicists and environmentalists to reflect on the meaning of his legacy today From a historian of religions who wrote a path breaking monograph on Gnosticism Jonas turned to the philosophy of nature extending his existential philosophy and phenomenological analysis to include all forms of life Unique among twentieth century Jewish philosophers Jonas argued for the possibility of a genuinely symbiotic relationship between humanity and nature which he believed had been suppressed by modern technology Jonas spoke against the human domination of nature on the basis of Jewish sources especially the Bible and Lurianic Kabbalah and he was among the first to define the ethical challenges that modern technology poses to humanity

Making All the Difference Martha Minow,2016-10-01 Should a court order medical treatment for a severely disabled newborn in the face of the parents refusal to authorize it How does the law apply to a neighborhood that objects to a group home for developmentally disabled people Does equality mean treating everyone the same even if such treatment affects some people adversely Does a state requirement of employee maternity leave serve or violate the commitment to gender equality Martha Minow takes a hard look at the way our legal system functions in dealing with people on the basis of race gender age ethnicity religion and disability Minow confronts a variety of dilemmas of difference resulting from contradictory legal strategies strategies that attempt to correct inequalities by sometimes recognizing and sometimes ignoring differences Exploring the historical sources of ideas about difference she offers challenging alternative ways of conceiving of traits that legal and social institutions have come to regard as different She argues in effect for a constructed jurisprudence based on the ability to recognize and work with perceptible forms of difference Minow is passionately interested in the people different people whose lives are regularly mis shaped and mis directed by the legal system s ways of handling them Drawing on literary and feminist theories and the insights of anthropology and social history she identifies the unstated assumptions that tend to regenerate discrimination through the very reforms that are supposed to eliminate it Education for handicapped children conflicts between job and family responsibilities bilingual education Native American land claims these are among the concrete problems she discusses from a fresh angle of vision Minow firmly rejects the prevailing conception of the self that she believes underlies legal doctrine a self seen as either separate and autonomous or else disabled and incompetent in some way In contrast she regards the self as being realized through connection capable of shaping an identity only in relationship to other people She shifts the focus for problem solving from the different person to the relationships that construct that difference and she proposes an analysis that can turn difference from a basis of stigma and a rationale for unequal treatment into a point of human connection The meanings of many differences can change when people locate and revise their relationships to difference she asserts The student in a wheelchair becomes less different when the building designed without him in mind is altered to permit his access Her book evaluates contemporary legal theories and reformulates legal rights for women children persons with disabilities and others historically identified as different Here is a powerful voice for change speaking to issues that permeate our daily lives and form a central part of the work of law By illuminating the many ways in which people differ from one another this book shows how lawyers political theorist teachers parents students every one of us can make all the difference

The Oxford Handbook of Free Will Robert Kane,2011-07-27 A guide to current work on free will and related subjects the focus is on writings of the past 40 years in which there has been a resurgence of interest in traditional issues about the freedom of the will in the light of new developments in the sciences philosophy and humanistic studies New Theatre Quarterly 59: Volume 15, Part 3 Clive Barker,Simon Trussler,1999-11-25 One of a series discussing topics of interest in theatre studies from theoretical methodological philosophical and historical perspectives The books are aimed at drama and theatre teachers advanced students in schools and colleges arts authorities actors playwrights critics and directors

Reasoning Magdalena Balcerak Jackson,Brendan Balcerak Jackson,2019-05-23 Philosophers have always recognized the value of reason but the process of reasoning itself has only recently begun to emerge as a philosophical topic in its own right Is reasoning a distinctive kind of mental process If so what is its nature How does reasoning differ from merely freely associating thoughts What is the relationship between reasoning about what to believe and reasoning about how to act Is reasoning itself something you do or something that happens to you And what is the value of reasoning Are there rules for good or correct reasoning and if so what are they like Does good reasoning always lead to justified belief or rational action Is there more than one way to reason correctly from your evidence This volume comprises twelve new essays by leading researchers in the philosophy of reasoning that together address these questions and many more and explore the connections between them Harvard Law Review ,1916 Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic, ... Natalio Fernández Marcos,1993 This volume based on recently published Old Latin material provides fascinating information and discussion on the textual pluralism attested by the Hebrew texts and versions of the books of Kings an intriguing page in the history of the biblical texts Reward, Punishment, and Forgiveness Joze Krasovec,2014-09-03 This book deals with central and universal issues of reward punishment and forgiveness for the first time in a compact and comprehensive way Until now these themes have received far too little attention in scholarly research both in their own right and in their interrelationship The scope of this study is to present them in relation to the foundations of our culture These and related issues are treated primarily within the Hebrew Bible using the methods of literary analysis The centrality of these themes in all religions and all cultures has resulted however in a comparative investigation drawing attention to the problem of terminology the importance of Greek culture for the European tradition and the fusion of Greek and Jewish Christian cultures in our modern philosophical and theological systems This broad perspective shows that the biblical personalist understanding of divine authority and of human righteousness or guilt provides the personalist key to the search for reconciliation in a divided world Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature Supplement ,1916 These vols contain the same material as the early vols of Social sciences humanities index Code of Federal Regulations ,2010 Special edition of the Federal Register containing a codification of documents of general applicability and future effect with ancillaries
