2012-2013 College Admissions Data Sourcebook Southeast Edition , Hold Fast to Dreams Beth Zasloff,Joshua Steckel,2015-03-03 An invaluable memoir

by a counselor who left the elite private school world to help poor and working class kids get into college Washington Monthly Winner of the Studs and Ida Terkel Award Joshua Steckel left an elite Manhattan school to serve as the first ever college guidance counselor at a Brooklyn public high school and has helped hundreds of disadvantaged kids gain acceptance But getting in is only one part of the drama This riveting work of narrative nonfiction follows the lives of ten of Josh's students as they navigate the vast obstacle ridden landscape of college in America where students for whom the stakes of education are highest find unequal access and inadequate support Among the students we meet are Mike who writes his essays from a homeless shelter and is torn between his longing to get away to an idyllic campus and his fear of leaving his family in desperate circumstances Santiago a talented motivated and undocumented student who battles bureaucracy and low expectations as he seeks a life outside the low wage world of manual labor and Ashley who pursues her ambition to become a doctor with almost superhuman drive but then forges a path that challenges received wisdom about the value of an elite liberal arts education At a time when the idea of college for all is hotly debated this book uncovers in heartrending detail the ways the American education system fails in its promise as a ladder to opportunity yet provides hope in its portrayal of the intelligence resilience and everyday heroics of young people whose potential is too often ignored A profound examination of the obstacles faced by low income students and the kinds of reforms needed to make higher education and the upward mobility it promises more accessible Booklist

Breaking Cycles of Violence in Israel and Palestine Franke Wilmer, 2021-02-02 Victimization narratives arise out of the experience of historical and ongoing injury and often intersect or in part constitute identity narratives Unless transformed through reconciliation these narratives can be used by political leaders to mobilize and perpetuate violence Victimization narratives are grounded in lived experiences whether by contemporary generations or passed on from one generation to another as a historical narrative about the prior experience of victimization Therefore cycles of violence cannot be ended sustainably unless those narratives are transformed and first narratives of victimization and cycles of violence must be disrupted This is the work of many peace activists in Israel and Palestine whose relationships are built on empathic engagement This book reviews theories of empathy across a broad range of scholarly work It then applies a framework of political psychology to understand the role of empathy in the accounts of peace activists whose identities as victims were transformed by their empathic engagement It includes a chapter providing historical background and concludes with a consideration of alternative futures for the Israeli and Palestinian people and communities Teach Janice Koch,2023-05-12 Through a concise but wide ranging exploration of the American public education system Teach Introduction to Education Fifth Edition asks readers to imagine themselves in the classroom and develop their own ideas of what it means to be a teacher Diversity, Inc. Pamela Newkirk,2019-10-22 One of Time Magazine s Must Read Books of 2019 An award winning journalist shows how workplace diversity initiatives have turned into a profoundly misguided industry and have done little to bring equality to America s major industries and institutions Diversity has become the new buzzword championed by elite institutions from academia to Hollywood to corporate America In an effort to ensure their organizations represent the racial and ethnic makeup of the country industry and foundation leaders have pledged hundreds of millions of dollars to commission studies launch training sessions and hire consultants and diversity czars But is it working In Diversity Inc award winning journalist Pamela Newkirk shines a bright light on the diversity industry asking the tough questions about what has been effective and why progress has been so slow Newkirk highlights the rare success stories sharing valuable lessons about how other industries can match those gains But as she argues despite decades of handwringing costly initiatives and uncomfortable conversations organizations have apart from a few exceptions fallen far short of their goals Diversity Inc incisively shows the vast gap between the rhetoric of inclusivity and real achievements If we are to deliver on the promise of true equality we need to abandon ineffective costly measures and commit ourselves to combatting enduring racial attitudes
