Bridging the Gap Judy Hildebrand, 2018-06-19 The book opens a very important debate for the family therapy field. At a time of treatment rationing and standard setting it aptly draws our attention to an issue of increasing importance: training the highest quality family therapists. In addition, it offers trainers and supervisors an invaluable how-to guide to tried and tested methods of taking trainees through a programme of personal and professional development. Judy Hildebrand is known throughout the family therapy world who has always spoken for integrating formal aspects of personal development and she has designed and run courses in Britain and Europe for many years. But the picture would be incomplete without understanding the effect that the exercises have on personal development and for this volume she is joined by Collette Richardson and Frankie Zimmerman, two colleagues and ex-trainees who have collated the experiences of a range of trainees from several courses and are able to complement Hildebrand's ideas with the voice of the trainee.

Kneeling in the End Zone Josh Tinley, 2009-10-27 Kneeling in the End Zone takes the often overlapping worlds of sports and religion and turns them upside down. Athletes, coaches, fans and broadcasters often bring faith into the world of sports, whether through on-field prayers, post-game interviews, biblical bleacher signs or using faith language or scriptural metaphors to describe an incredible play or performance. Kneeling in the End Zone aims to do the exact opposite, using sports as a lens through which to look at the Christian faith. It uses sports as a metaphor, drawing parallels between scriptural stories and memorable tales from the field or court and looks at those transcendent moments in sports history that reveal larger truths about life.
