These stories have simmered for over twenty years in scribbled form squeezed out between life's more pressing responsibilities. Papa always thought if he could not do the job at a church in two years it was time to move to another church. So we girls had many fresh adventures and met many different kinds of people in the ten churches he served while we were growing up. Our parents taught us biblical principles by their example in life situations. They walked the talk before it was a popular phrase. They demonstrated the fruit of the Spirit in their daily lives. Connecting Kids to History with Museum Exhibitions D Lynn McRaney, John Russick, 2016-09-16 Kids have profound and important relationships to the past but they don't experience history in the same way as adults. For museum professionals and everyone involved in informal history education and exhibition design, this book is the essential new guide to creating meaningful and memorable connections to the past for children. This vital museum audience possesses many of the same dynamic qualities as trained historians: curiosity, inquiry, empathy for the human experience. Yet traditional history exhibitions tend to focus on passive looking in the galleries, giving priority to relaying information through words. D Lynn McRaney and John Russick bring together top museum professionals to present state-of-the-art research and practice that respects and incorporates kids' developmental stages and learning preferences and the specific ways in which kids connect to history. They provide concrete tools for audience research and evaluation, exhibition development and design, and working with kids as creative consultants. The only book to focus comprehensively on history exhibits for kids, Connecting Kids to History With Museum Exhibitions shows how to enhance the experiences of a vitally important but frequently the least understood museum audience.

The sixty selections in this book represent the cream of Barbara's devotional crop. Kick your shoes off, settle back, and unwind.
