Careless State Mark Considine, 2022-10-05 The lives of all Australians are profoundly affected by the quality of social services available but a long list of royal commissions and public inquiries have revealed them to be failing In The Careless State Mark Considine shows that the preferred model of reform has failed to adapt and improve In the 1980s Australian governments faced rapidly increasing demand for services in areas like employment assistance aged care childcare and vocational education and training to respond to this challenge governments led by Bob Hawke and Paul Keating pioneered the introduction of service markets where private companies compete with public institutions and charities in newly constructed social services This choice revolution was embraced and extended by the Howard government Market choice continues to drive reform across a wide spectrum of programs and social services Considine's detailed investigation demonstrates conclusively that important aspects of the experiment with social service markets have failed Weak quality control systematic sorting and entrenched disadvantage have become the norm Private business interests and shareholders interest have often displaced established charities and commitment to quality care for all The service systems are careless leaving clients to make choices without real information or protection Considine points to alternative ways that reforms could be configured to get the best from both private and public agencies and find a new approach to save these failing services

"The Belt and Road" International Migration of Asia MI Hong, LI Yuan, MA Qiyini, 2021-08-30 The book studies multilateral population security issues and relevant governance strategies caused by international migration in the countries impacted by China's Belt and Road initiative and their border areas Buttressed by solid data mining and policy analysis the title looks into the demographic trends of international migration in China and some Asian Belt and Road countries and stresses the urgency for more effective governance practices Seeking to address the population security crisis triggered by the Initiative the authors propose the idea of multilateral population security governance grounded in the real world challenges facing Belt and Road countries while also drawing on experiences of migration governance in western countries As a new governance model it calls for cross border joint action and takes into consideration pertinent factors including economy politics culture religion and commerce Several case studies and comparative studies are offered in the chapters to illuminate the significance and effect of this cooperative mechanism The book will be of interest to researchers and government officials interested in non traditional security international migration and formal demography as well as topics on population resources and environment
