Resa L. Dudovitz, 2019-10-01 Reviled by critics but loved by the readers the bestseller has until recently provoked little serious critical interest In The Myth of Superwoman originally published in 1990 Resa Dudovitz looks at this international phenomenon particularly at the origins of the bestseller system in the United States and France Her cross cultural study including interviews with publishers literary agents and bestselling authors gives a lively picture of the contrasting ways in which the bestseller is produced marketed and received in two countries It pays special attention to the international bestsellers of the 1980s to writers like Judith Krantz Colleen McCullough and Barbara Taylor Bradford all of whose novels are published in the United States Britain France Germany and Italy The book presents a general analysis of women's bestsellers ranging over a wide variety of novels from popular nineteenth century texts in France and the United States to the novels of today Dudovitz shows how women's bestselling fiction has over the last two hundred years kept pace with the social evolution of contemporary women culminating in the myth of superwoman in women's bestsellers of the 1980s This fascinating account of an important aspect of popular culture will be of great value to students of women's studies and cultural studies especially those interested in the myths which structure women's bestselling fiction Story You Don't Want to Read, About People You Don't Want to Meet Aleksandra Osman, 2024-04-26 No one dreams of becoming a refugee I know I was one a child fleeing war torn Sarajevo Though the Bosnian War has faded from global attention for those it displaced the struggle persists Being a refugee is not a one time event but a lifelong series of petty humiliations as you chase the elusive prize of acceptance in a new homeland This collection shares raw stories from refugees like me who now call Canada home On paper Canada welcomes diversity in reality immigrants often face a glass ceiling that excludes us from full participation With irony in this multicultural nation we are made to feel like uncomfortable outcasts burdened by our pasts You may not want to hear our stories because they highlight bitter truths that even in an open armed country refugees endure judgement and distance But acknowledging these stories is the first step toward positive change By reading about our intersecting struggles you become part of the solution helping to shift perspectives and bring us in from the margins Our histories make some uncomfortable but are essential to share if we hope to build a more inclusive society No Time for
