Rubin, James M. Giarelli, 2013-10-11 This book explores four interrelated themes rethinking civic education in light of the diversity of U S society re-examining these notions in an increasingly interconnected global context re-considering the ways that civic education is researched and practiced and taking stock of where we are currently through use of an historical understanding of civic education There is a gap between theory and practice in social studies education while social studies researchers call for teachers to nurture skills of analysis decision making and participatory citizenship students in social studies classrooms are often found participating in passive tasks e.g. quiz and test taking worksheet completion listening to lectures rather than engaging critically with the curriculum Civic Education for Diverse Citizens in Global Times directed at students researchers and practitioners of social studies education seeks to engage this divide by offering a collection of work that puts practice at the center of research and theory Public Policy Michael E. explores the dynamic tensions in order to understand the interplays of policy and school level influences that contextualize school innovations By presenting multiple voices and views it allows impediments and affordances of innovation diffusion to be discussed holistically which is an integral caveat for nurturing a sustainable ecology that enables innovations

Civic Education in the Elementary Grades Dana Mitra, Stephanie C. Serriere, 2015 As former elementary school teachers the authors focus on what is possible in schools rather than a romantic vision of what schools could be Based on a 5 year study of an elementary school this book shows how civic engagement can be purposive and critical a way to encourage young people to examine their environment to notice and question injustices and to take action to make a difference in their communities and school Focusing on the intersection of student voice and critical inquiry the book describes how to embed civic engagement into curriculum school decision making processes and whole school activities Chapters provide an overview of what research has demonstrated about civic engagement at the classroom school and community levels including detailed descriptions of activities and lessons for practice Classroom teachers school principals community members and teacher educators can use this resource to foster a deeper richer understanding of what is entailed in civic life Book Features A vivid portrait of a typical public school that wants to do more than teach to the test An examination of the conditions that enable young people to participate in democratic practices including identifying and questioning injustices Concrete examples of student voice and critical inquiry in classroom contexts Practices and activities that encourage children to get along with others exchange perspectives and work across differences Offers a suggestive range of evidence that high quality civic engagement initiatives can enhance students academic social and emotional engagement It reveals the nitty gritty of how experienced teachers can enable children who are immersed in meaningful civic work also to engage more deeply with mathematical problem solving peer collaboration literacy and social studies learning and development of empathy and mutual trust From the Foreword by Meira Levinson Mitra and Serriere show us not only that elementary aged children are capable of civic engagement but how such engagement can be nurtured in the classroom Children can be active civic participants this book demonstrates both the power of this idea and how we might accomplish this essential task Beth C Rubin Rutgers University
