Evaluation of projects related to the Voluntary Guidelines on the Responsible Governance of Tenure of Land, Fisheries and Forests in the Context of National Food Security funded by Germany Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2021-06-04 FAO has been promoting the Voluntary Guidelines on the Responsible Governance of Tenure of Land Fisheries and Forests VGGT in several countries and the Federal Republic of Germany had significantly contributed by financially supporting FAO's activities. The programme contributed through multi stakeholder platforms to an inclusive dialogue which led in most countries to the emergence of a common vision on land governance and positively influenced the land reform processes. It also triggered changes in mind set which are needed for long term improvements at country level. Results have shown that the VGGT while being international principles of land policy can be translated into concrete actions at the local level. The evaluation stressed the need for greater attention on developing activities to be carried out in local communities which result in defined precise and achievable gains on governance of tenure and to continue working on women and youth land access issues.

have returned to sculpture to answer questions about Roman art society and history. Indeed, the field of Roman sculptural studies encompasses not only the full chronological range of the Roman world but also its expansive geography and a variety of artistic media, formats, sizes, and functions. Exciting new theories, methods, and approaches have transformed the specialized literature on the subject in recent decades. Rather than creating another chronological catalogue of representative examples from various periods, genres, and settings, The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture synthesizes current best practices for studying this central medium of Roman art, situating it within the larger fields of Art History, Classical Archaeology, and Roman Studies. This comprehensive volume fills the gap between introductory textbooks and highly focused professional literature. The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture conveniently presents new technical, scientific, literary, and theoretical approaches to the study of Roman sculpture in one reference volume, while simultaneously complementing textbooks and other publications that present well-known works in the corpus. The contributors to this volume address metropolitan and provincial material from the early republican period through late antiquity in an engaging and fresh style. Authoritative, innovative, and up to date, The Oxford Handbook of Roman Sculpture will remain an invaluable resource for years to come.

Guidelines on irrigation investment projects Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-04-15

Irrigation has been and will continue to be an agricultural and rural investment priority. Development of the irrigation sector faces multiple challenges, including water scarcity and degradation, competition over shared resources, and the impact of climate change. Innovations are needed to address these challenges, as well as emerging needs, and to promote productive, equitable, and sustainable water management. These guidelines, produced by an inter-agency team, highlight experiences and lessons learned from global irrigation investment operations. They introduce innovative approaches, tools, and references, and provide practical guidance on how to incorporate or apply them at each stage of the investment project cycle. The guidelines will be a useful resource for national and international professionals involved in irrigation investment operations. Water use in livestock production systems and supply chains. Guidelines for assessment Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-08-14. The Technical Advisory Group (TAG) for Water Use Assessment, composed of 30 international experts, has developed guidelines on water footprinting for livestock supply chains. The mandate of the Water TAG was to provide recommendations to monitor the environmental performance of feed and livestock supply chains over time so that progress towards improvement targets can be measured, apply the guidelines for feed and water demand of small ruminants, poultry, large ruminants, and pig supply chains, build on and go beyond the existing FAO LEAP guidelines, and pursue alignment with relevant International Organization for Standardization (ISO) standards, specifically ISO 14040, ISO 14044, ISO 2006b, and 2006a, and ISO 14046. ISO 2014. The guidelines on water use assessment include the impact assessment, the assessment of the environmental performance related to water use of a livestock-related system by assessing potential environmental impacts of blue water consumption following the water scarcity footprint according to the framework.

provided by ISO 14046 ISO 2014 and the assessment of the system's productivity of green and blue water. The guidelines are thus intended to support the optimization of use of water resources and the identification of opportunities to decrease the potential impacts of water use in livestock production. The Water TAG guidance is relevant for livestock production systems including feed production from croplands and grasslands and production and processing of livestock products cradle to gate. It addresses all livestock production systems and livestock species considered in existing LEAP animal guidelines: poultry, pig, small ruminant and large ruminant supply chains.

Rome and The Guidebook Tradition Anna Blennow, Stefano Fogelberg Rota, 2019-04-01. To this day, no comprehensive academic study of the development of guidebooks to Rome over time has been performed. This book treats the history of guidebooks to Rome from the Middle Ages up to the early twentieth century. It is based on the results of the interdisciplinary research project Topos and Topography led by Anna Blennow and Stefano Fogelberg Rota. From the case studies performed within the project, it becomes evident that the guidebook as a phenomenon was formed in Rome during the later Middle Ages and early Renaissance. The elements and rhetorical strategies of guidebooks over time have shown to be surprisingly uniform with three important points of development: a turn towards a more user friendly structure from the seventeenth century and onward, the so-called Baedeker effect in the mid nineteenth century, and the introduction of a personalized guiding voice in the first half of the twentieth century. Thus, the guidebook tradition is an unusually consistent literary oeuvre which also forms a warranty for the authority of every new guidebook. In this respect the guidebook tradition is intimately associated with the city of Rome with which it shares a constantly renovating yet eternally fixed nature
