Good evening friends, family, faculty, and fellow graduates.

As we stand here today, on the brink of a new chapter in our lives, it's hard to believe that it's already been four years (or however long it took us to get here). It seems like just yesterday that we were nervously stepping onto campus, not quite sure what to expect.

But as we look back on the past four years, it's clear that we've come a long way. We've made new friends, learned new things, and grown as individuals. We've faced challenges and overcome them, and we've learned to persevere through difficult times.

And as we move on from this chapter in our lives, I encourage each and every one of us to remember the lessons we've learned and the experiences we've had. These experiences will shape who we are and how we approach the world, and they will serve us well in the years ahead.

But before we get too ahead of ourselves, let's take a moment to reflect on how we got here. I'm sure we all have different stories and experiences, but there are a few things that I think we can all relate to.

For starters, I'm sure we can all agree that college is a lot of hard work. Between classes, assignments, and exams, it's easy to get bogged down and feel overwhelmed. But despite the challenges, we've persevered and made it to this point.

I'm also sure that we've all had moments where we felt lost or unsure of ourselves. It's natural to feel that way, especially when you're trying to navigate a new environment and figure out your place in the world. But despite these moments of uncertainty, we've found our footing and discovered our passions.

And most importantly, I'm sure we can all agree that college has been an amazing experience. We've had the opportunity to learn from some of the best professors in the field, engage in meaningful discussions and debates, and be part of a community of like-minded individuals.

So, as we move on from this chapter in our lives, let's remember to be grateful for the experiences we've had and the people who have supported us along the way. To our parents, who have always believed in us and encouraged us to pursue our dreams, thank you for your unwavering love and guidance. To our teachers and mentors, who have imparted their knowledge and wisdom upon us, thank you for your invaluable guidance and encouragement. And to our friends, who have stood by us through thick and thin, thank you for your friendship and support.

William W. Cutler,2015-05-01 Who holds ultimate authority for the education of America s children teachers or parents Although the relationship between home and school has changed dramatically over the decades William Cutler s fascinating history argues that it has always been a political one and his book uncovers for the first time how and why the balance of power has shifted over time Starting with parental dominance in the mid nineteenth century Cutler chronicles how schools growing bureaucratization and professionalization allowed educators to gain increasing control over the schooling and lives of the children they taught Central to his story is the role of parent teacher associations which helped transform an adversarial relationship into a collaborative one Yet parents have also been controlled by educators through PTAs leading to the perception that they are company unions Cutler shows how in the 1920s and 1930s schools expanded their responsibility for children s well being outside the classroom These efforts sowed the seeds for later conflict as schools came to be held accountable for solving society s problems Finally he brings the reader into recent decades in which a breakdown of trust racial tension and parents rights have taken the story full circle with parents and schools once again at odds Cutler s book is an invaluable guide to understanding how parent teacher cooperation which is essential for our children s educational success might be achieved 640 Acres and Dirt Poor Janet Godwin
