MH-SET Paper 1 Guide for Assistant Professor with Past Questions Disha Experts, 2020-02-29 Christ and the Created Order Zondervan, 2018-05-08 According to the Christian faith Jesus Christ is the ultimate revelation not only of the nature of God the Creator but also of how God the Creator relates to the created order The New Testament explicitly relates the act of creation to the person of Jesus Christ who is also a participant within creation and who is said by his acts of participation to have secured creation's ultimate redemption from the problems which presently afflict it Christian theology proposes that Jesus Christ the incarnate Word and Wisdom of God the agent in whom the Spirit of God is supremely present

among us is the rationale and the telos of all things time space as we experience and explore it nature and all its enigmas matter itself Christology is thus utterly fundamental to a theology of creation as this is unfolded both in Scripture and in early Christian theology For all this the contemporary conversation about science and faith tends to a remarkable degree to neglect the significance of Jesus Christ focusing instead on a generic God of wonder or God of natural theology Such general theism is problematic from the perspective of Christian theology on many levels and has at times led to a more or less deistic theology the impression that God has created the world then largely left it to itself Such a theology is far removed from classical Christian renderings of creation providence redemption and eschatology According to these the theology of creation is not just about remote beginnings or the distant acts of a divine originator Rather the incarnate Jesus Christ is himself remarkably the means and the end for which creation itself exists If we would think aright about our world study it and live within it wisely we must reckon centrally with his significance What might such a bold claim possibly mean and why is Jesus Christ said by Christian theology to be so important for understanding God's overall relationship to the created order What does this importance mean for science Christ and the Created Order addresses these questions by gathering insights from biblical scholars theologians historians philosophers and scientists This interdisciplinary collection of essays reflects on the significance of Jesus Christ for understanding the created world particularly as that world is observed by the natural sciences Contributors to Christ and the Created Order include Marilyn McCord Adams Richard Bauckham Deborah Haarsma Paul Moser Murray Rae James K A Smith Norman Wirzba N T Wright and more
