Reducing Fuel Consumption and Greenhouse Gas Emissions of Medium- and Heavy-Duty Vehicles, Phase Two National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Transportation Research Board, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Energy and Environmental Systems, Committee on Assessment of Technologies and Approaches for Reducing the Fuel Consumption of Medium- and Heavy-Duty Vehicles, Phase Two, 2020-05-15 Medium and heavy duty trucks motor coaches and transit buses collectively medium and heavy duty vehicles or MHDVs are used in every sector of the economy The fuel consumption and greenhouse gas emissions of MHDVs have become a focus of legislative and regulatory action in the past few years This study is a follow on to the National Research Council's 2010 report Technologies and Approaches to Reducing the Fuel Consumption of Medium and Heavy Duty Vehicles That report provided a series of findings and recommendations on the development of regulations for reducing fuel consumption of MHDVs On September 15 2011 NHTSA and EPA finalized joint Phase I rules to establish a comprehensive Heavy Duty National Program to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and fuel consumption for on road medium and heavy duty vehicles As NHTSA and EPA began working on a second round of standards the National Academies issued another report Reducing the Fuel Consumption and Greenhouse Gas Emissions of Medium and Heavy Duty Vehicles Phase Two First Report providing recommendations for the Phase II standards This third and final report focuses on a possible third phase of regulations to be promulgated by these agencies in the next decade South African national bibliography ,1999 Classified list with author and title index

Thermal Energy Yatish T. Shah, 2018-01-12 The book details sources of thermal energy methods of capture and applications It describes the basics of thermal energy including measuring thermal energy laws of thermodynamics that govern its use and transformation modes of thermal energy conventional processes devices and materials and the methods by which it is transferred It covers 8 sources of thermal energy combustion fusion solar fission nuclear geothermal microwave plasma waste heat and thermal energy storage In each case the methods of production and capture and its uses are described in detail It also discusses novel processes and devices used to improve transfer and transformation processes

Towards more effective collaboration by higher education institutions for greater regional development in the Gauteng City-Region Robert Bergman, 2014-11-19 Higher education institutions HEIs in the Gauteng City Region GCR and elsewhere are increasingly being called upon to do more than their traditional roles of teaching and research They are now expected to collaborate and engage with other stakeholders with a view to contributing directly and indirectly to social and economic development in their localities Such an orientation includes having HEIs actively fostering public private partnerships and other initiatives that enhance equitable regional development The adoption of such a focus has implications for all aspects of these institutions activities as well as for the policy and regulatory framework in which they operate This Occasional Paper reflects critically on the role of HEIs in regional development It surveys current debates on the matter and draws out some of the implications on how we ought to think further about the current state of government industryacademia interaction and collaboration for development in the GCR It is motivated by an awareness of the increasing importance of higher education in the regional development discourse alongside a body of international theory and practice on the contribution of HEIs to regional development A cornerstone of this body of literature is the so called triple helix framework within which government industry and academia work intimately intensely and collaboratively towards a common vision of regional development Within this framework HEIs are considered to be a public good that must play a large meaningful and relevant role in the development and improvement of the cities and regions where they are located 1 2 They do not and cannot stand completely outside the realities of their geographic social cultural and political environment The intended audience for this report extends beyond academics and HEI administrators to include government officials business and labour leaders civil society and citizens because a discussion on stimulating and improving the GCR must be much more than an academic exercise The collaboration that is essential to regional development requires stakeholders to be familiar with a wide spectrum of issues of importance to individual constituencies Each constituency must add value and insight to the discussion by drawing on their specific knowledge experience and self interests Establishing this common ground is fundamental to initiating meaningful debate about what the GCR can and should be and how regional HEIs can work more collaboratively creatively and effectively to improve and advance the region
