The Art and Craft of Literacy Pedagogy Jennifer Rowsell, 2020-05-18 In tracing community and how art and craft can be harnessed to express and manifest communities this book raises fundamental questions and issues about the nature of literacy in everyday lives Threaded throughout the contributions is an abiding belief in the expansive and flexible nature of literacy which might one moment involve photography in the next drama and in the next invite song coupled with movement Something happens to literacy when it is seen through multiple modalities of meaning and communication it moves from a thing to a thought and a feeling Pedagogically the book offers readers a carousel of places and people to witness literacy with from young children all the way to grandparents This opens up a sense of geography and age proving that literacy really does reside in the centre and corners of our lives With nine chapters by scholars in Canada the United Kingdom and the United States all researching under the umbrella of the same research study the collection provides a unique perspective on human and aesthetic communication and shows differences between social groups This book was originally published as a special issue of Pedagogies An International Journal Teaching Together, Learning Together Wolff-Michael Roth, Kenneth George Tobin, 2005 Coteaching and cogenerative dialoguing are ways of learning to teach that truly bridge the gap between theory and praxis as new teachers learn to teach alongside peers and more experienced teachers These practices are also means of overcoming teacher isolation and burnout Through cogenerative dialogue sessions new and experienced teachers university supervisors researchers and administrators are able to create local theory for the purpose of improving teaching and learning In this book contributors from four countries report on how coteaching and cogenerative dialoguing worked in their situation International Perspectives on Literacies, Diversities, and Opportunities for Learning Cynthia Brock, Beryl Exley, Lester-Irabinna Rigney, 2023-07-11 This book explores the conceptual framework opportunities for learning as a transaction between literacy learners mediating agents and the literacy content to be learned within social cultural and historical contexts With contributions from top scholars from around the world the chapters in this book provide a window into the varied ways learners their families educators and researchers have co constructed opportunities for learning in a range of PK 12 classrooms community settings and university classrooms across the globe Building on decades of existing scholarship contributors conceptualize literacy as social practice and discuss a variety of literacies including engineering literacies community literacies and bilingual and multicultural literacies and more through real world and insightful examples By situating literacy learning in the complex social cultural and historical contexts in which students teachers and families live and work chapter authors provide nuanced qualitative and deeply profound views of literacy learning Critical and informative with a myriad of examples on co constructed opportunities for learning this volume is an essential text for graduate courses on literacy education and for literacy researchers teacher educators and teachers Theory and Methods for Sociocultural Research in Science and Engineering Education Gregory J. Kelly, Judith L. Green, 2018-12-17 Introducing original methods for integrating sociocultural and discourse studies into science and engineering education this book provides a much needed framework for how to conduct qualitative research in this field The three dimensions of learning identified in the Next Generation Science Standards NGSS create a need for research methods that examine the sociocultural components of science education With cutting edge studies and examples consistent with the NGSS this book offers comprehensive research methods for integrating discourse and sociocultural practices in science and engineering education and provides key tools for applying this framework for students pre service teachers scholars and researchers Teaching in Special Education Lisa A. Ferrelli,2009-12-11

Teaching In Special Education Managing the Chaos addresses the question how do special education teachers function in general education settings The text describes the experiences of special education teachers in diverse settings at a time when federal law and assessment requirements drive educational policy Ferrelli uses interviews and observation to tell the stories of six special education teachers as they go about the business of teaching illuminating the elements of special education teacher practice and documenting the tensions manifested in the interaction between special education and general education teachers Such tensions create a distinct sense of separation between the practices that constitute special education and those of general education that are typical of American educational policy and practice today In providing voice for these teachers this text fills a vacancy in the currently existing studies of teacher practice Now You See It Cathy N. Davidson,2012-07-31 As scholarly as it is this book about education happens to double as an optimistic even thrilling summer read The New York Times A brilliant combination of science and its real world application Now You See It sheds light on one of the greatest problems of our historical moment our schools and businesses are designed for the last century not for a world in which technology has reshaped the way we think and learn In this informed and optimistic work Cathy N Davidson takes us on a tour of the future of work and education introducing us to visionaries whose groundbreaking ideas will soon affect every arena of our lives from schools with curriculums built around video games to workplaces that use virtual environments to train employees Early Childhood Deaf Education: Teacher Preparation and Instructional Approaches
