Professional Learning from Classroom-Based Inquiries Jyoti Rookshana Jhagroo, Patricia Martha Stringer, 2023-09-29 This book provides authentic practice based inquiries by pre service teachers Their reflective narratives showcase their individual inquiries as they navigated their self chosen professional learning journeys through the teaching as inquiry framework The narratives advance what it means to be a reflective practitioner in practice and highlight necessary dispositional skill sets to attain valuable professional learning through inquiry Through an inquiry stance pre service teachers are liberated from being knowledge consumers to local knowledge producers relevant to their practice The dissonance this shift creates negates the comfortable doing of teaching to make the act of teaching authentic relevant and powerful

Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi, Michael G. Moran, 1990-02-15 This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975 the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing the book is divided into three sections Social Science Perspectives Linguistic Perspectives and Pedagogical Perspectives The first section which contains three essays views the field through the lens of social psychological and political issues The second section also containing three essays examines contributions made from studies of grammar dialects and second language acquisition The third section in its four essays focuses on the design development administration and evaluation of basic writing courses the use of computers in basic writing classrooms the role of the writing lab and the preparation of basic writing teachers An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included as well as an index This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics technical writing and Teaching English as a Second Language It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs

“A” Dictionary of the Chinese Language, in Three Parts; Part the First, Containing Chinese and English, Arranged According to the Radical; Part the Second, Chinese and English Arranged Alphabetically; And Part the Third, English and Chinese Robert Morrison, 1815 Selected Writings of Richard McKeon, Volume Two Richard P. McKeon, 1998 Richard

McKeon was a philosopher of extraordinary creativity who brought profoundly original ideas to bear on more standard ways of thinking and learning. A classicist, medievalist, and revolutionary intellectual, he fashioned an approach to philosophy as a plural conversation among varied traditions of thought, epochs, and civilizations. This second volume of McKeon's selected works demonstrates his approach to inquiry and practice in culture, education, and the arts. Together, the writings in this book show how McKeon reinvented the ancient arts of rhetoric, grammar, logic, and dialectic for the new circumstances of a global culture. In essays on creation and criticism, for instance, rhetoric is distinguished from grammar and shown to be the master art of invention, judgment, and pluralistic interpretation. Writings on themes of culture meanwhile explore the self-invention of mankind as justification for the arts, the development of the humanities, and the organization of the sciences. In the closing essays on education and philosophy, McKeon considers the implications of his ideas for the future of the liberal arts and higher learning.

Questions of Character Iskra Fileva, 2017. This collection features 26 new essays on character from first-rate scholars in philosophy, psychology, economics, and law. The essays are elegantly written and combine forceful argumentation with original ideas on a wide range of questions, such as: Is Aristotle's theory of character a moral theory? Are character traits in tension with personal autonomy? How do traits differ from mental disorders? What is the role of gossip in character attribution? And can businessmen be virtuous? The chapters are organized thematically into 5 sections, each prefaced by its own special introduction. In the introductions, the editor brings out often unexpected connections among different lines of argument pursued by the authors and raises important questions for further discussion. The collection as a whole offers students of character a unique opportunity to engage with some of the best contemporary work on the topic.

Exploring Language Variation, Diversity and Change Marinela Burada, Oana Tatu, Raluca Sinu, 2021-07-23. While communication is becoming increasingly multimodal, verbal language and its use in different communicative situations still hold centre stage in many research circles. The articles in this book explore native and second languages from three vantage points: syntactic structure, their uses in professional settings, and second foreign language pedagogy. Using different methods and methodologies, the contributions here draw on both theoretical and empirical data in order to investigate a series of language internal and language external factors that both account for the structural peculiarities of Romanian and English and have a bearing on its translatability and learnability by students of English as a second language. Featuring the hands-on experience of teachers and learners in the Romanian context, this volume provides useful insights and illustrative examples of relevance to theorists and practitioners in language and communication-related fields.
