Bradlow,Elizabeth Sidiropoulos,2020-01-01 About the publication South Africa s foreign policy makers are facing a substantial challenge From the advent of the democratic era in 1994 through to the early 2000s South

Africa was a highly respected actor in international affairs with a number of impressive accomplishments in the areas of global governance peacekeeping and international norm entrepreneurship. However, since that time, the country's international standing has declined. The value-based and innovative foreign policy that earned the early post-apartheid South African government such great international respect has been replaced by a more transactional and tactically driven approach to international affairs. The country's position as Africa's leading economy and voice in international affairs is increasingly being challenged by other African states. This book explores how South Africa can develop a foreign policy strategy that is appropriate to the uncertain times in which we live and that both helps the country address its overwhelming domestic challenges of poverty, inequality, and unemployment and regain its former high international reputation. The contributors to this book offer analyses and proposals for developing such a strategy within the context of the country's constitutional order and institutional constraints and that addresses the diverse and complex global and regional aspects of the country's international relations.

Endorsements

In this valuable book, which should be on every diplomat's bookshelf, some of SA's foremost experts offer the government frank and compelling advice on how to conduct a much better foreign policy over the next decade. The authors challenge Pretoria to muster all the country's assets and skills and not just those of the ruling party to pursue only the most important foreign policy goals. And to be guided always by the lodestar of the Constitution.

Peter Fabricius, Foreign Policy Analyst, former Foreign Affairs Editor at Independent Newspapers

In this one of a kind book of twelve chapters, by emerging and experienced scholars, the authors probe into factors shaping South African foreign policy, lessons learned, and the future strategy of the country's foreign policy in an ever-changing world. A compelling read for policy makers and scholars.

Ambassador Prof Iqbal Jhazbhay, University of South Africa, Member of the ANC's NEC

International Relations Sub-Committee: its breadth will engage newcomers; its insights will be useful to scholars and practitioners alike.

Professor Amrita Narlikar, President, German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA). This book offers compelling insights on South Africa's foreign policy. These varied pieces provide textured and critical perspectives that may help open up an avenue to re-imagine South Africa's foreign policy afresh in the post-Zuma years. It is a compendium that should appeal to scholars of international relations, practitioners of foreign policy, and the broader policy community.

Professor Mzukiso Qobo, Head School of Governance, University of the Witwatersrand. This nuanced and richly detailed volume offers the reader superb analyses of South Africa's foreign policy. The authors' contributions present both theoretical considerations and specific policy recommendations, which make the book highly useful for both scholars and policy makers. Each chapter is thus certain to significantly contribute to promoting the public debate about South Africa's place in the world.

Professor Oliver Stuenkel, Fundaç o Get lio Vargas (FGV).
