Sandf Intergration For 2015:

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heinecken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention, military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment, gender equality and mainstreaming, the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged, HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil-military relations of countries around the world.

Team Diversity and Inclusion in Defence and Security Barbara T. Waruszynski, Yantsislav Yanakiev, Daniel P. McDonald, 2025-07-26 As a toolkit for the issues and challenges of diversity and inclusion in defence and security organizations, this state-of-the-art book allows leaders, managers, practitioners and personnel to examine international perspectives on the current research, best practices, lessons learned and strategies for promoting greater teamwork, collaboration, trust, cohesion and organizational performance. Authors discuss critical areas such as a) gender, ethnic and cultural diversity; b) international case studies that employ diverse and inclusive management practices; c) inclusive team-based and transformational leadership; d) evidence-based approaches to understanding best practices and lessons learned in diversity and inclusion; and e) methods, innovative strategies, programs and recommendations to help promote greater team engagement, resilience and adaptability in defence and security. This book moves beyond theoretical discussions and provides practical approaches and recommendations to generate effective problem-solving, innovation and creativity across organizations. By embracing team diversity and inclusion practices, organizations can better leverage diverse knowledge, skills and experiences to help build a sustainable culture where people work together to achieve effective solutions to real-world problems.

Silencing the Guns in Africa Antonio Garcia, Jacob Udo-Udo Jacob, 2025-03-14 The scholarship of this book is drawn from local and international experts by framing critically a number of discourses on matters of security, conflict, violence and peace on the African continent. It is indeed a breath of fresh air to the scientific community, largely because it contributes to the on-going debates on security issues. Dr Ntsikelelo Benjamin Breakfast, Director of the Center for Security, Peace and Conflict Resolution at Nelson Mandela University. This book makes a deep contribution to scholarly literature on conflict studies peacekeeping and peacebuilding in Africa Written largely from the perspective of the applied social sciences it is empirically rich and offers refreshing insights into social behaviour in military contexts This is a timely contribution because current public discourse in South Africa is centred on the gains and missed opportunities of thirty years of democracy and new lenses are welcome Many of the chapters reflect South African experiences This is to be welcomed as it demonstrates that scholars and practitioners from the country are reflecting on the complexities of South African experiences of defence and security matters in contemporary times Dr Sandy Africa Director of Research at Mapungubwe Institute for Strategic Reflection MISTRA This volume brings together the voices of scholars and practitioners a diverse group of writers who are passionate about and committed to creating a safer more prosperous and peaceful Africa Each with their own specialism this work combines many different world views and approaches Conflict in Africa is an impossibly broad topic to cover in a single edited publication and so we focus on a select number of case studies expositions and themes

Reforming Civil-Military Relations in New Democracies Aurel Croissant, David Kuehn, 2017-03-20 This book addresses the challenge of reforming defense and military policy making in newly democratized nations By tracing the development of civil military relations in various new democracies from a comparative perspective it links two bodies of scholarship that thus far have remained largely separate the study of emerging or failed civilian control over armed forces on the one hand and work on the roots and causes of military effectiveness to guarantee the protection and security of citizens on the other The empirical and theoretical findings presented here will appeal to scholars of civil military relations democratization and security issues as well as to defense policy makers

Integration of State-of-art Techniques for Landslide Hazard Assessment and for the Mitigation Caused by the Subsequent Multimodal Disaster Yih-Chin Tai, Norifumi Hotta, Chih-Yu Kuo, Marc-Henri Derron, Rou-Fei Chen, 2022-10-07

African Borders, Conflict, Regional and Continental Integration Inocent Moyo, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, 2019-04-25 This book looks at the ways African borders impact war and conflict as well as the ways continental integration could contribute towards cooperation peace and well being in Africa African borders or borderlands can be a source of problems and opportunity There is often a historical geospatial and geopolitical architecture rooted in trajectories of war conflict and instability which could be transformed into those of peace regional and continental integration and development An example is the cross border and regional response to the Boko Haram insurgency in West Africa This book engages with cross border forms of cooperation and opportunity in Africa It considers initiatives and innovations which can be put in place or are already being employed on the ground within the current regional and continental integration projects Another important element is that of cross border informality which similarly provides a ready resource that if properly harnessed and regulated could unleash the development potential of African borders and borderlands Students and scholars within Geography International Relations and Border Studies will find this book useful It will also benefit civil society practitioners policymakers and activists in the NGO sector interested in issues such as migration social cohesion citizenship and local development South Africa and United Nations Peacekeeping Offensive Operations Garcia, Antonio,2018-08-16 The creation of the Force Intervention Brigade FIB as the sharp tactical edge of the United Nations Stabilisation Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo MONUSCO tasked with the neutralising of armed groups was a watershed moment in the history of modern peace missions What was more significant was that sub Saharan national leaders were instrumental in the creation of the FIB South Africa Tanzania and Malawi but lacked the resources to deploy such a force and consequently the brigade was deployed under the banner of the UN With the legacy of an African Renaissance and its role in the conception of the FIB South Africa remains a critical player in international peace and security in sub Saharan Africa and therefore holds a key strategic role in achieving the FIB s objectives This comes at a critical time where blue helmets are increasingly exposed to complex and challenging security contexts The aim of this work is to provide a conceptual model for South African military future operations and UN offensive peacekeeping operations In this undertaking a layer of military and Clausewitzian theory is added to offensive peacekeeping operations Furthermore there are sections on operational constructs capstone and operating concepts doctrine and structural elements as well a section on mine action This book contributes towards an understanding of the nature of modern strategy through the lens of UN offensive peacekeeping operations and provides insights into operational challenges reading for peacebuilding scholars and practitioners International Clinical Sociology Jan Marie Fritz, 2020-12-22 Clinical sociology is a multidisciplinary field that seeks to improve life situations for individuals and groups This book showcases the art and science of clinical sociology from around the world It is the first book to present basic clinical sociology diagrams and models in addition to detailed histories of clinical sociology in the United States Quebec France and Japan A range of interventions are discussed in light of a region's economic social political and disciplinary history The book presents illustrative case studies from leaders in the field and it serves the need of graduate level courses from around the world

The Routledge Handbook of Civil-military Relations Thomas C. Bruneau, Florina Cristiana Matei, 2013 The Routledge Handbook of Civil Military Relations not only fills this important lacuna but offers an up to date comparative analysis which identifies three essential components in civil military relations 1 democratic civilian control 2 operational effectiveness and 3 the efficiency of the security institutions This Handbook will be essential reading for students and practitioners in the fields of civil military relations

Women and Gender Perspectives in the Military Robert Egnell, Mayesha Alam, 2019-02-01 Women and Gender Perspectives in the Military compares the integration of women gender perspectives and the women peace and security agenda into the armed forces of eight countries plus NATO and United Nations peacekeeping operations This book brings a much needed crossnational analysis of how militaries have or have not improved gender balance what has worked and what has not and who have been the agents for change The country cases examined are Sweden the Netherlands Canada the United States the United Kingdom Israel Australia and South Africa Despite increased opportunities for women in the militaries of many countries and wider recognition of the value of including gender perspectives to enhance operational effectiveness progress has encountered roadblocks even nearly twenty years after United Nations Security Council Resolution 1325 kicked off the women peace and security agenda Robert Egnell Mayesha Alam and the contributors to this volume conclude that there is no single model for change that can be applied to every country but the comparative findings reveal many policy relevant lessons while advancing scholarship about women and gendered perspectives in the military

Apartheid's Black Soldiers Lennart Bolliger, 2021-10-01 New oral histories from Black Namibian and Angolan troops who fought in apartheid South Africa's security forces reveal their involvement and its impact on their lives to be far more complicated than most historical scholarship has acknowledged In anticolonial struggles across the African continent tens of thousands of African soldiers served in the militaries of colonial and settler states In southern Africa they often made up the bulk of these militaries and in some contexts far outnumbered those who fought in the liberation movements armed wings Despite these soldiers significant impact on the region's military and political history this dimension of southern Africa's anticolonial struggles has been almost entirely ignored in previous scholarship Black troops from Namibia and Angola spearheaded apartheid South Africa's military intervention in their countries respective anticolonial war and postindependence civil war Drawing from oral history interviews and archival sources Lennart Bolliger challenges the common framing of these wars as struggles of national liberation fought by and for Africans against White colonial and settler state armies Focusing on three case studies of predominantly Black units commanded by White officers Bolliger investigates how and why these soldiers participated in South Africa s security forces and considers the legacies of that involvement In tackling these questions he rejects the common tendency to categorize the soldiers as collaborators and traitors and reveals the un national facets of anticolonial struggles Finally the book s unique analysis of apartheid military culture shows how South Africa s military units were far from monolithic and instead developed distinctive institutional practices mythologies and concepts of militarized masculinity

Climate Security in the Anthropocene Judith Nora Hardt, Cameron Harrington, Franziskus von Lucke, Adrien Estève, Nicholas P. Simpson, 2023-05-20

The speed and scale of climate change presents unique and potentially monumental security implications for individuals future generations international institutions and states Long dominant security paradigms and policies may no longer be appropriate for dealing with these new security risks of the Anthropocene In response to this phenomenon this book investigates how states have reacted to these new challenges and how their different understandings of the climate security nexus might shape global actions on climate change It focuses on the perceptions framings and policies of climate security by members of the United Nations Security Council UNSC the world s highest ranking multilateral security forum Empirically the book presents detailed bottom up case studies from local authors of every UNSC member state in 2020 It combines this with an innovative theoretical approach spanning national human and ecological security that helps to capture the complex dynamics of state led approaches to dealing with security in the Anthropocene This book therefore offers readers a compelling picture of climate security politics in the UNSC beyond Council debates and resolutions By comparing and contrasting how different framings of climate security impact various policy sectors of members states the authors are able to assess the barriers and opportunities for addressing climate security locally and globally This timely contribution to the literature on climate security examines the under analysed relationship between the policy approaches of key countries at the national and at the international level Policy alignment at multiple levels of governance will be critical if we are to respond adequately to the ubiquitous challenges posed by climate change and variability Shirley Scott Head of School and Professor School of Humanities and Social Sciences UNSW Canberra at the Australian Defence Force Academy Australia Climate change is increasingly considered a problem of security yet what that means remains deeply contested Behind the rhetoric of climate crisis threats and emergencies UN Security Council members offer profoundly different ideas about what climate change and security mean and what should be done about it This book brilliantly lays out the hidden or overlooked divergences of interests and perspectives on climate security that are playing out in the world s most central security institution as it grapples with securing a climate unstable world Olaf Corry Professor of Global Security Challenges Faculty of Social Sciences School of Politics and International Studies University of Leeds United Kingdom Security is a contested concept whose scope and direction are subject to change The prime value of this volume is the systematic documentation of the dynamics in defining what security is about in reaction to ever dramatic climate change The book s focus on a somewhat representative sample of states the members of the Security Council provides robust evidence that even though many governments remain reluctant to retreat from traditional perceptions of security there is a large and growing acceptance of the need to adjust priorities in providing security in response to climate change and its consequences Michael Brzoska Professor and Senior Research Fellow IFSH Institute for Peace Research and Security Policy Universit t Hamburg Germany The climate security literature has often been labelled as West centric with little recognition of knowledge production processes and different historical socio economic and political experiences of various societies in the Global South This book goes beyond the conventional approaches to provide a whole range of perspectives on climate security reflective of diverse contextual realities covering factors such as development imperatives conflict dynamics postcolonial legacies institutional actor complexities and geopolitical contestations among others By focusing on the climate security approaches of various countries case studies at the domestic and international levels the applicability of existing climate security frameworks or lack thereof in the context of these case studies is brilliantly brought out by the chapters This book weaves together these diverse perspectives by providing a comprehensive overview of climate security related policies of countries from both Global South and Global North and their positions on climate change and security in the UNSC They reflect the varying norms interests priorities and challenges that continue to shape the climate security agenda within the UNSC as well as non UNSC platforms This book is a must read for anyone interested in gaining an in depth and invigorating understanding of the evolution of distinct climate security discourses and practices in varying contexts Dhanasree Jayaram Assistant Professor Department of Geopolitics and International Relations Manipal Academy of Higher Education MAHE India Research Fellow Centre Marc Bloch Climate Security in the Anthropocene provides a timely and compelling account of the conceptualizations of the climate security nexus and their implications By considering climate security through the lenses of national human and ecological security it provides a sophisticated account of the different dimensions involved in the UNSC debates and beyond The collection of chapters illustrating the positions of the members of the UN Security Council in 2020 not only provide an informative account but also sheds light on the challenges that the UNSC faces in dealing with climate change Maria Julia Trombetta Associate Professor in Politics and Environment School of International Studies Institute of Asia and Pacific Studies University of Nottingham Ningbo China China The book Climate Security in the Anthropocene is the first systematic assessment of climate security decision making and governance of the UN Security Council It is groundbreaking as it combines empirical bottom up case studies of perceptions and policies of different ministries and governmental agencies of UNSC member states with a novel theoretical framework contrasting different security framings and conceptions in the Anthropocene Discussing various policy sectors the study assesses barriers and opportunities and provides novel insights on multi scale responses and interactions in the climate security nexus from local to global levels connecting individuals future generations international institutions and states The book is highly recommendable for everyone interested in the emerging field of policy oriented climate security research J rgen Scheffran Professor for Integrative Geography Head of the Research Group Climate Change and Security CLISEC Center for Earth System Research and Sustainability Universit t Hamburg Germany This volume provides multifocal insights into the climate security nexus combining critical security studies and international relations theories in the age of the Anthropocene Analyzing the perceptions policies and positions of 15 UN Security Council member states this thought provoking piece demonstrates how national security human security and ecological security have advanced as conceptual innovations Offering a rich and diverse range of empirical case studies this piece is a strong contribution to academic discourse and teaching alike Franziska M ller Junior Professor for Political Science Faculty of Business Economics and Social Sciences Universit t Hamburg Germany Theorizing Local Migration Law and Governance Moritz Baumgärtel, Sara Miellet, 2022-09-22 In many regions around the world the governance of migration increasingly involves local authorities and actors This edited volume introduces theoretical contributions that departing from the local turn in migration studies highlight the distinct role that legal processes debates and instruments play in driving this development Drawing on historical and contemporary case studies it demonstrates how paying closer analytical attention to legal questions reveals the inherent tensions and contradictions of migration governance By investigating socio legal phenomena such as sanctuary jurisdictions it further explores how the law structures ongoing processes of re scaling in this domain Beyond offering conceptual and empirical discussions of local migration governance this volume also directly confronts the pressing normative questions that follow from the growing involvement of local authorities and actors This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Mergent International Manual ,2003 Southern Africa's Blue Economy Donald L.
