Reference Manual on Scientific Evidence National Research Council, Federal Judicial Center, Policy and Global Affairs, Committee on Science, Technology, and Law, Committee on the Development of the Third Edition of the Reference Manual on Scientific Evidence, 2011-10-26 The Reference Manual on Scientific Evidence Third Edition assists judges in managing cases involving complex scientific and technical evidence by describing the basic tenets of key scientific fields from which legal evidence is typically derived and by providing examples of cases in which that evidence has been used First published in 1994 by the Federal Judicial Center the Reference Manual on Scientific Evidence has been relied upon in the legal and academic communities and is often cited by various courts and others Judges faced with disputes over the admissibility of scientific and technical evidence refer to the manual to help them better understand and evaluate the relevance reliability and usefulness of the evidence being proffered The manual is not intended to tell judges what is good science and what is not Instead it serves to help judges identify issues on which experts are likely to differ and to guide the inquiry of the court in seeking an informed resolution of the conflict The core of the manual consists of a series of chapters reference guides on various scientific topics each authored by an expert in that field The topics have been chosen by an oversight committee because of their complexity and frequency in litigation Each chapter is intended to provide a general overview of the topic in lay terms identifying issues that will be useful to judges and others in the legal profession They are written for a non technical audience and are not intended as exhaustive presentations of the topic Rather the chapters seek to provide judges with the basic information in an area of science to allow them to have an informed conversation with the experts and attorneys

Saks, Federal Judicial Center, 2004      Evaluating Scientific Evidence Erica Beecher-Monas, 2007 This book examines scientific evidence in both civil and criminal contexts      Fake Evidence Ron Milliner, 2019-09-10 Fake Evidence examines the scientific evidence offered in evolution creation court cases from the State of Tennessee v John Thomas Scopes in 1925 to Kitzmiller v Dover Area School District in 2005 The validity of the different types of evidence is tested against the current ideas in the scientific literature Much of the evidence offered in the past would not be offered in such a case if held today The first chapter of the book looks at court evidence in light of the nature of science Court cases have been decided based on fingerprints handwriting samples DNA etc only to be overturned later Why are evolution cases allowed to stand when the evidence used in the trial is no longer valid The State of Tennessee v John Thomas Scopes is the first evolution creation case It is discussed in chapter two Because of its well known attorneys Clarence Darrow and William Jennings Bryan it attracted national attention In this trial a hoax like the Piltdown Man was offered as evidence for the proof of evolution Chapter three moves ahead to the 1960s and considers Epperson v Arkansas that declared laws forbidding the teaching of evolution as unconstitutional This case is also considered in light of two other court cases decided that decade Engel v Vitale that removed state initiated prayers in the classroom and Abington School District v Schempp that ruled against a daily Bible reading in school How were these cases similar Since evolution had to be taught efforts were made to have evolution and creation taught side by side These efforts brought about two court cases McLean v Arkansas Board of Education and Edwards v Aguillard McLean v Arkansas Board of Education dealt with an Arkansas law and was decided in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas and was limited to that region Edwards v Aguillard was a similar law passed in Louisiana which was appealed all the way to the United States Supreme Court The justices declared the teaching of scientific creationism was religious teaching and thus unconstitutional The final case that is examined in this work is Kitzmiller v Dover Area School District The school board in Dover Pennsylvania wanted to see its students become aware of intelligent design A good deal of this case centered on showing that intelligent design is religious teaching so that the judge could rule against it based on the earlier court cases against a religious view being taught in public schools Fake Evidence closes with a look at some of the view expressed against religion in Kitzmiller v Dover Area School District and the dangers found in those views The book also contains several appendices including one on The Fruits of Evolution
