The Cambridge Introduction to Creative Writing David Morley, 2007-05-10 Publisher description

Transformative Experiences in College Neal Christopherson, 2020-11-24 Transformative Experiences in College Connections and Community explores the intersection of two concepts transformative experience in college and the communities in which students learn Emerging from a five year longitudinal interview study tracking a panel of 75 students through four years at a selective liberal arts college this book provides a rich depiction of how aspects of the college community and the relationships developed within that community create opportunities for transformative experiences that lead to personal and academic growth Neal Christopherson argues that transformative experiences in college are primarily the results of interactions with other people and with a broader campus community documenting the ways in which relationships with faculty experiences in courses interaction with peers and the general institutional environment can generate these experiences Christopherson also touches on extracurricular and co curricular activities the importance of a healthy environment for interacting with difference and how students transition out of the institution Scholars of education sociology and communication will find this book particularly useful

Multimodal Composing and Writing Transfer Kara Poe Alexander,Matthew Davis,Lilian W. Mina,Ryan P. Shepherd,2024-02-15 Multimodal Composing and Writing Transfer explores transfer across various contexts of multimodal composing extending the early conversations connecting multimodality to writing Contributors address how writing transfer theories intersect with multimodal composing and present methods for facilitating transfer across modes and media offering insight into how writers can learn to compose when they encounter familiar modes in new contexts Over the past two decades the concepts of multimodal composing and writing transfer have grown and reshaped the nature of writing studies but rarely have the ways in which these areas overlap been studied This collection shows how this shift in writing studies has been mutually informative covering a wider range of contexts for multimodality and writing transfer than just in first year composition courses It places composition teaching practices and multimodal research in conversation with learning transfer theory to provide an in depth examination of how they influence one another Multimodal Composing and Writing Transfer develops these intersections to connect multimodal composition and writing practices across a wide array of fields and contexts Scholars across disciplines postsecondary writing teachers writing program administrators writing center directors and graduate students will find this collection indispensable
