First with Readings Laurie G. Kirsznar, Stephen R. Mandell, 2005-09-28 Writing First teaches the basics of writing and grammar in the context of students own writing Along with a comprehensive treatment of the process of writing paragraphs and essays it helps students develop the fundamental writing skills they need to succeed in college and beyond By providing students with more help in the areas they most need it grammar ESL and high stakes test taking the third edition of Writing First better addresses the realities of the developmental writing course      History Lessons S.G. Grant, 2014-04-04 Uses extended case studies of two New York teachers and their students combined with discussion of the existing research literature to explore issues central to understanding teaching learning and testing in secondary school history classrooms

Brooklyn Roots Estelle B. Breines, 2011-02-07 Brooklyn Roots is the story of Estelle Breines experience growing up in Borough Park but it will resonate with anyone who grew up there or for that matter in any other urban ethnic neighborhood She paints word pictures that take you back in time evoking the scenes scents and sensibilities of the old neighborhood Leslie Werstein Hann writer editor HannWriting Inc Once stirred those memories rolled out in bursts demanding recording A description of the neighborhood of her youth emerged her fathers pharmacy shops along the avenue and the house with its magnificent purple irises peeking above a stone wall as tall as a four year old A small garment is remembered in detail a dolls dress made from an old pillowcase using a needle encrusted by baked on grease from the stuffed chicken necks her grandmother prepared this the woman who braided the authors hair so tightly as surrogate parent while her parents worked to provide for them all in an era emerging from the Great Depression There was the school she attended when the war began and the celebrations at its end and the places she and her friends explored as they grew Her recollections of the neighborhoods artifacts appear as she envisions pickles and egg creams Each shop along the 13th Avenue of her memory is sustained in its original character even the corsetiere and milliner of the past stuck there in time      Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High-Stakes Testing Carl Whithaus, 2005-04-27 This book takes on a daunting task How do writing teachers continue to work toward preparing students for academic and real world communication situations while faced with the increasing use of standardized high stakes testing Teachers need both the technical ability to deal with this reality and the ideological means to critique the information technologies and assessment methods that are transforming the writing classroom Teaching and Evaluating Writing in the Age of Computers and High Stakes Testing serves this dual need by offering a theoretical framework actual case studies and practical methods for evaluating student writing By examining issues in writing assessment ranging from the development of electronic portfolios to the impact of state wide standards based assessment methods on secondary and post secondary courses this book discovers four situated techniques of authentic assessment that are already in use at a number of locales throughout the United States These techniques stress interacting with students as communicators using synchronous and asynchronous environments describing the processes and products of student learning rather than enumerating deficits situating pedagogy and evaluation within systems that incorporate rather than exclude local variables and distributing assessment among diverse audiences By advocating for a flexible system of communication based assessment in computer mediated writing instruction this book validates teachers and students experiences with writing and also acknowledges the real world weight of the new writing components on the SAT and ACT as well as on state mandated standardized writing and proficiency exams

Teaching History with Big Ideas S. G. Grant, Jill M. Gradwell, 2010-07-16 In the case studies that make up the bulk of this book middle and high school history teachers describe the decisions and plans and the problems and possibilities they encountered as they ratcheted up their instruction through the use of big ideas Framing a teaching unit around a question such as Why don t we know anything about Africa offers both teacher and students opportunities to explore historical actors ideas and events in ways both rich and engaging Such an approach exemplifies the construct of ambitious teaching whereby teachers demonstrate their ability to marry their deep knowledge of subject matter students and the school context in ways that fundamentally challenge the claim that history is boring

For the Children Rob Langston LD, 2012-06-05 My dream for this book is to reach one person at a time and help them in some way I wrote this book about my learning disability but this is for anyone who has his or her own special challenge In this book I tell you about my struggles and accomplishments as a child and an adult with Dyslexia with the hope that it will give you the strength and encouragement to help yourself or a loved one It has been a long road but I wouldnt change a thing I am the person I am today because of all the mountains and valleys I have conquered I strongly urge you to read this book and apply it to your life Dont ever give up on your dreams and always believe in yourself

Teaching about Teaching Tom Russell, 2002-11 Considers teacher education as an important aspects of the teaching profession and demonstrates why it is so important for higher education institutions to value their teacher educators professional knowledge The book demonstrates how teaching about teaching knowledge pedagogy is vital to the development of quality in teacher education and how this knowledge needs to be articulated and communicated throughout the teaching profession both in schools and universities
