Heideman, 2001 In the nineteenth century the Scudders went to India with the avowed intention to confine their efforts to evangelistic preaching By the time the Reformed Church mission became a part of the Church of South India it was one of the most heavily institutionalized churches in the nation supporting agricultural and industrial efforts one of India's leading hospitals and numerous educational institutions This work by Eugene Heideman himself a missionary to India analyzes the causes for the shift in missionary emphasis in India illuminating in the process an intriguing yet little known component of the Reformed Church's witness Covenant of Care Alan M. Kraut, Deborah A. Kraut, 2007 Trouble in the Beth Israel Hospital Association The formative years From little house on the hill to modern institution A modern hospital surviving depression and war Medicine at the Beth 1928 1947 The modern institution at midcentury Medical research at midcentury Redefining the Beth's community The changing shape of health care Webbed Toes: A Birth Mother's Life Story Winifred Latham, 2013-09-20 In Webbed Toes A Birth Mother's Story Winifred Latham takes readers on the journey of her life from growing up in small town Washington North Carolina to earning a nursing degree from the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond to locales both stateside and international during her career as a United States Air Force nurse during the Vietnam War era This candid memoir shares Latham's story as a young woman who was date raped before finishing nursing school in the late 1950s and finding herself pregnant her agonizing decision to give the baby up for adoption Woven throughout the narrative is her struggle to maintain the secret that she carried with her for 35 years Latham s story goes full circle when she receives a letter out of the blue from a woman who knows about the child she thought she would never see again
