Clive Barstow, Holger Briel

Rei Voice Fall 2014:

Rei Kawakubo Comme des Garçons Andrew Bolton, 2017-05-01 Widely recognized as among the most important and influential designers of the past forty years Rei Kawakubo of Comme des Garçons has defined and transformed the visual language of our time Since her Paris debut in 1981 she has blurred the divide between art and fashion and transformed customary notions of the body beauty and identity This lavishly illustrated publication weaves an illuminating narrative around Kawakubo's revolutionary experiments in interstitiality the space between boundaries Brilliant new photographs of more than 120 examples of Kawakubo's womenswear for Comme des Garçons accompanied by Kawakubo's commentary on her designs and creative process reveal her conceptual and challenging aesthetic as never before A chronology of Kawakubo's career provides additional context and an insightful conversation with the author offers a fascinating glimpse into the mind of this fashion visionary

Unsettling Sexuality Jeremy Chow, Shelby Johnson, 2025 Unsettling Sexuality brings queer trans and asexual lenses to bear on the long eighteenth century Drawing from Middle Eastern and Asian studies African American studies and Native American and Indigenous studies the authors pioneer intersectional readings of European transatlantic and global eighteenth century archives that unsettle traditional ways of approaching the field to welcome sexuality as something that can resist rigidity

Performance Appraisal in Modern Employment Relations Tindara Addabbo, Edoardo Ales, Ylenia Curzi, Tommaso Fabbri, Olga Rymkevich, Iacopo Senatori, 2019-12-10 Contributing to the debate on work performance evaluation in a time of technological transformation this book explores the impact of digitisation on production and organisation models as well as on the rights and interests of the stakeholders involved As organisations down size merge with other companies and become decentralised the boundaries in employer employee customer relationships are blurred and new models for the organisation and assessment of work performance have emerged With these new models innovative regulatory approaches are sorely needed Taking an interdisciplinary approach and drawing on theoretical concepts from organisation studies human resource management sociology and labour economics this all encompassing collection is not only essential reading for academics and students but also for policy makers and employers who are looking for innovative and practical solutions to the challenges of modern employment relations

Mission on the Road to Emmaus Cathy Ross, Stephen B. Bevans, 2015-01-31 Aimed at scholars and students of missiology this book considers missions through the lens of prophetic dialogue The authors try to bring a fresh approach to the subject of mission introducing some newer themes identity creation migration and offering a different perspective on some older themes by grouping them in this way

Empirical Foundations of the Common Good Daniel K. Finn, 2017-06-01 In this pathbreaking volume six social scientists explain what their disciplines know about the common good and two theologians ask how theology's understanding of the common good should change in response

Hume's Imagination Tito Magri, 2022-09-22 This book proposes a new and systematic interpretation of the mental nature function and structure and importance of the imagination in Book 1 Of the Understanding of Hume's Treatise of Human Nature The proposed interpretation has deeply revisionary implications for Hume's philosophy of mind and for his naturalism epistemology and stance to scepticism The book remedies a surprising blindspot in Hume scholarship and contributes to the current lively philosophical debate on imagination Hume's philosophy if rightly understood gives suggestions about how to treat imagination as a mental natural kind its cognitive complexity and variety of functions notwithstanding Hume's imagination is a faculty of inference and the source of a distinctive kind of idea which complements our sensible representations of objects Our cognitive nature if restricted to the representation of objects and of their relations would leave ordinary and philosophical cognition seriously underdetermined and expose us to scepticism Only the non representational inferential faculty of the imagination can put in place and vindicate ideas like causation body and self which support our cognitive practices The book reconstructs how Hume's naturalist inferentialism about the imagination develops this fundamental insight Its five parts deal with the dualism of representation and inference the explanation of generality and modality the production of causal ideas the production of spatial and temporal content and the distinction of an external world of bodies and an internal one of selves and the replacement of the understanding with imagination in the analysis of cognition and in epistemology

Translating Ancient Greek Drama in Early Modern Europe Malika Bastin-Hammou, Giovanna Di Martino, Cécile Dudouyt, Lucy C. M. M. Jackson, 2023-05-22 The volume brings together contributions on 15th and 16th century translation throughout Europe in particular Italy France Spain Portugal Germany and England Whilst studies of the reception of ancient Greek drama in this period have generally focused on one national tradition this book widens the geographical and linguistic scope so as to approach it as a European phenomenon Latin translations are particularly emblematic of this broader scope translators from all over Europe latinised Greek drama and as they did so developed networks of translators and practices of translation that could transcend national borders The chapters collected here demonstrate that translation theory and practice did not develop in national isolation but were part of a larger European phenomenon nourished by common references to Biblical and Greco Roman antiquities and honed by common religious and scholarly controversies In addition to situating these texts in the wider context of the reception of Greek drama in the early modern period this volume opens avenues for theoretical debate about translation practices and discourses on translation and on how they map on to twenty first century terminology

Look Round for Poetry Brian McGrath, 2022-05-17 Poetry is dead Poetry is all around us Both are trite truisms that this book exploits and challenges In his 1798 Advertisement to Lyrical Ballads William Wordsworth anticipates that readers accustomed to the poetic norms of the day might not recognize his experiments as poems and might signal their awkward confusion upon opening the book by looking round for poetry as if seeking it elsewhere Look Round for Poetry transforms Wordsworth's idiomatic expression into a methodological charge By placing tropes and figures common to Romantic and Post Romantic poems in conjunction with contemporary economic technological and political discourse Look Round for Poetry identifies poetry's untimely echoes in discourses not always read as poetry or not always read poetically Once one begins looking round for poetry McGrath insists one might discover it in some surprising contexts In chapters that spring from poems by Wordsworth Lucille Clifton John Keats and Percy Bysshe Shelley McGrath reads poetic examples of understatement alongside market demands for more the downturned brow as a figure for economic catastrophe Romantic cloud metaphors alongside the rhetoric of cloud computing the election of the dead as a poetical and not just a political act and poetic investigations into the power of prepositions as theories of political assembly For poetry to retain a vital power McGrath argues we need to become ignorant of what we think we mean by it In the process we may discover critical vocabularies that engage the complexity of social life all around us

Connecting Ideas, Cultures, and Communities Clive Barstow, Holger Briel, 2025-03-03 The proceedings of the Second International Symposium on Humanities and Social Sciences ISHSS 2024 provide a rich repository of scholarly articles that explore the intricate links between ideas cultures and communities This volume captures the essence of interdisciplinary research offering fresh perspectives on the challenges and opportunities within the social sciences Spanning a wide array of topics from historical analysis to contemporary sociological studies the proceedings delve into the main findings of the symposium With a focus on regional development political policies and the impact of technology on education these papers illustrate a commitment to advancing understanding and fostering global dialogue Designed for academics researchers and professionals in the fields of humanities and social sciences this publication is ideal for those seeking to expand their knowledge engage with current research and contribute to the ongoing discourse on the pressing issues of our time

Mixed Media in Contemporary American Literature Joelle Mann, 2021-06-28

Mixed Media in Contemporary American Literature Voices Gone Viral investigates the formation and formulation of the contemporary novel through a historical analysis of voice studies and media studies After situating research through voices of nineteenth and twentieth century American literature this book examines the expressions of a multi media vocality examining the interactions among cultural polemics aesthetic forms and changing media in the twenty first century The novel studies shown here trace the ways in which the viral aesthetics of the contemporary novel move language out of context recontextualizing human testimony by galvanizing mixed media forms that shape contemporary literature in our age of networks Through readings of American authors such as Claudia Rankine David Foster Wallace Jennifer Egan Junot Diaz Michael Chabon Joseph O Neill Michael Cunningham and Colum McCann the book considers how voice acts as a site where identities combine conform and are questioned relationally By listening to and tracing the spoken and unspoken voices of the novel the author identifies a politics of listening and speaking in our mediated informational society
