China from the Margins Emily Williams, Loredana Cesarino, 2024-07-24 This book explores and brings to light untold stories from the margins of Chinese society. It investigates and reveals grassroots and popular cultural beliefs, amusing anecdotes, items of lore and accounts of the strange and the unusual. It delves into questions of identity formation considering gender, sexuality, class, generational divides, subcultures, national minorities and online communities. It examines heritage making practices and the persistence of marginalized memories. Bringing together views from cultural studies, literature, gender studies, cultural heritage, sociology, history and more, the book argues that neither the margins nor the centre can be understood in isolation and that by focusing on the margins, a fuller picture of Chinese society overall emerges, including new perspectives on spatial and social marginality, on hierarchies of marginality and on neglected spaces, voices and identities.

Our Deceased Loved Ones Communicating with Us Ted Baxter, 2015-05-19 This book summarizes seventy of my honoring the dead books that I was directed to write by the dead. The dead would direct me in my dreams, usually within a week after they die, to write a book for their loved ones. They would tell me what to write, what photographs to use and to whom to send the book. This is the reason why I had decided to publish this book. The dead don't forget you after they die. Don't forget them. People don't change after they die. I've had many good experiences and a few very bad experiences with them. If I was able to communicate with the dead, you can too. It's a very interesting story how I had acquired this capability, which I discussed in this book. I was not born with that capability. I also discuss two of my prior lifetimes, which have also helped me communicate with the dead. These are all things that I suggest that you know about. It all helps, like it has helped me. It's all true and it can be verified in the seventy books that I have written. This book summarizes what is in those seventy books. This book gives a number of examples that nothing happens by accident. You can be whatever you want to be. I did it and you can do it too. In this lifetime, I meet my mother in my 1620 AD lifetime, who had given me my current capabilities.

to unravel the layered dynamics of exclusion and the myriad factors contributing to the marginalization of specific communities in the region. A critical aspect of this meeting is the exploration of historical legacies examining how the colonial past has influenced contemporary patterns of marginalization. The research delves into the socio-economic disparities, cultural diversity, and political structures that underpin the marginalization of certain groups. By adopting an intersectional lens, the study scrutinizes the interplay of factors such as ethnicity, gender, religion, and socio-economic status, recognizing the interconnectedness of these dimensions in shaping the experiences of marginalization. Furthermore, it also examines the repercussions of marginalization on affected communities, analyzing the barriers they encounter in accessing fundamental rights such as education, healthcare, employment, and political participation. Special attention is given to the resilience and resistance strategies employed by marginalized groups, illustrating their agency in navigating and challenging systemic exclusion. The conference hopefully incorporates in-depth case studies from various countries within Southeast Asia to capture the regional nuances of marginalization processes. By adopting a comparative approach, the research identifies both commonalities and unique challenges faced by marginalized groups across national borders, contributing to a nuanced understanding of regional dynamics. This conference not only documents and analyzes the complexities of marginalization within Southeast Asia but also strives to provide actionable insights. By shedding light on the challenges faced by marginalized groups, the research aims to inform policy interventions and social initiatives that can address and mitigate the adverse effects of systemic exclusion. Through this lens, the study contributes to ongoing discussions on social justice, equity, and inclusive development in the Southeast Asian context, fostering a deeper understanding of these issues for the benefit of both academic discourse and practical implementation.

Functional Structure from Top to Toe Peter Svenonius, 2014

This volume consists of nine original chapters on central issues in theoretical syntax, all written by distinguished authors who have made major contributions to generative syntax, plus an introductory chapter by the editor. Dedicated to Tarald Taraldsen, the collection reflects the diverse energies that have pushed the cartographic program forward over the last decade. The first three papers deal with subject extraction, the que qui alternation, and relative clause formation. Luigi Rizzi presents arguments that subjects are criterial and that subject extraction is highly restricted. Hilda Koopman and Dominique Sportiche concur, suggesting that what appears to be subject extraction in French has been misanalyzed and involves a relative structure. Adriana Belletti shows that children avoid using object relatives, preferring subject relatives even when it requires passivization. The fourth paper by Ian Roberts analyzes the loss of pro drop in the history of French and Brazilian Portuguese. The papers by M. Rita Manzini and Richard S. Kayne both present novel analyses of complementizers, suggesting that they are essentially nominal rather than verbal. The final three papers address the relationship of morphology to syntax. The first two argue for a syntactic approach to word formation: Guglielmo Cinque's in a typological context and Anders Holmberg's within an analysis of Finnish focus constructions. The final paper by Edwin Williams presents an argument for the limitations of the syntactic approach to word formation
