Moral Argument, Religion, and Same-sex Marriage Gordon Albert Babst, Emily R. Gill, Jason Pierceson, 2009-01-01 The diverse expert contributors to this volume from the fields of politics and law use moral argumentation with respect to same sex marriage gay rights in general and California's Prop 8 The arguments are advanced in terms of the nation's foundational political and legal principles extending ethical argumentation to important contemporary public policy areas such as marriage the separation of church and state and the rearing of children Several chapters also contest the perceived if not actual establishment in the law and public policy of heterosexist and religious bias that continues to work against full and meaningful inclusion of sexual minorities This bias is ironically and improperly couched in the language of American political and religious values and it misunderstands the nation's core principles or willfully miscasts them as inapplicable to many Americans and their families Nonetheless this bias is pervasive in the nation's political discourse working to deny an important right and the recognition of equality to many citizens The main contribution of Moral Argument Religion and Same Sex Marriage is in its direct engagement with the political and legal arguments of the gay community's critics on their own moral and ethical terms Along the way important concepts in public discourse such as governmental neutrality the right to marry and religious freedom are presented and cast in the light of liberal democratic theory

Graham, 2016-05-06 Are Jane Austen and Charles Darwin the two great English empiricists of the nineteenth century Peter W. Graham poses this question as he brings these two icons of nineteenth century British culture into intellectual conversation in his provocative new book Graham shows that while the one is generally termed a naturalist Darwin's preferred term for himself and the other a novelist these characterizations are at least partially interchangeable as each author possessed skills that would serve well in either arena Both Austen and Darwin are naturalists who look with a sharp cold eye at the concrete particulars of the world around them Both are in certain senses novelists who weave densely particularized and convincingly grounded narratives that convey their personal observations and perceptions to wide readerships When taken seriously the words and works of Austen and Darwin encourage their readers to look closely at the social and natural worlds around them and form opinions based on individual judgment rather than on transmitted opinion Graham's four interlocked essays begin by situating Austen and Darwin in the English empirical tradition and focusing on the uncanny similarities in the two writers' respective circumstances and preoccupations Both Austen and Darwin were fascinated by sibling relations Both were acute observers and analysts of courtship rituals Both understood constant change as the way of the world whether the microcosm under consideration is geological biological social or literary Both grasped the importance of scale in making observations Both discerned the connection between minute particular causes and vast general effects Employing the trenchant analytical talents associated with his subjects and informed by a wealth of historical and biographical detail and the best of recent work by historians of science Graham has given us a new entree into Austen's and Darwin's writings Unlocking the Medinan Qur'an Nicolai Sinai, 2022-02-28 The Qur'anic surahs and passages that are customarily taken to postdate Muhammad's emigration to Medina occupy a key position in the formative period of Islam they fundamentally shaped later convictions about Muhammad's paradigmatic authority and universal missionary remit they constitute an important basis for Islam's development into a religion with a strong legal focus and they demarcate the Qur'anic community from Judaism and Christianity The volume exemplifies a rich array of approaches to the challenges posed by this part of the Qur'an including its distinctive literary and doctrinal features its relationship to other late antique traditions and the question of oral composition Contributors are Karen Bauer Saqib Hussain Marianna Klar Joseph E Lowry Angelika Neuwirth Andrew J O Connor Cecilia Palombo Nora K Schmid Nicolai Sinai Devin J Stewart Gabriel S Reynolds Neal Robinson and Holger Zellentin Real
