Nineteenth-Century France William G. Pooley, 2019-12-05 The moorlands of Gascony are often considered one of the most dramatic examples of top down rural modernization in nineteenth century Europe From an area of open moors they were transformed in one generation into the largest man made forest in Europe Body and Tradition in Nineteenth Century France explores how these changes were experienced and negotiated by the people who lived there drawing on the immense ethnographic archive of Felix Arnaudin 1844 1921 The study places the songs stories and everyday speech that Arnaudin collected as well as the photographs he took in the everyday lives of agricultural workers and artisans It argues that the changes were understood as a gradual revolution in bodily experiences as men and women forged new working habits new sexual relations and new ways of conceiving of their own bodies Rather than merely presenting a story of top down reform this is an account of the flexibility and creativity of the cultural traditions of the working population William G Pooley tells the story of the folklorist Arnaudin and the men and women whose cultural traditions he recorded then uncovers the work carried out by Arnaudin to explore everyday speech about the body stories of werewolves and shapeshifters tales of animal cunning and exploitation and songs about love and courtship The volume focuses on the lives of a handful of the most talented storytellers and singers Arnaudin encountered showing how their cultural choices reflect wider patterns of behaviour in the region and across rural Europe Landscape Stories Jem Southam, Gerry Badger, Andy Grundberg, 2005-08-25 Early in the morning before breakfast and the start of the workday photographer Jem Southam takes to the countryside of southwest England of Bristol Cornwall Dorset Devon and Somerset with camera in hand His photographs of the hills and valleys farms and smallholdings coasts and cliffs tinning streams and dew ponds chart the subtle evolution of this place transformed not only by natural geological processes but by human intervention over centuries Created as series over long periods of time these ostensibly topographic and descriptive photographs derive great power from an underlying allegorical language which draws on and engages our collective imagination Landscape Stories the first comprehensive collection of Southam's work culls from three completed series The Pond at Upton Pyne The Red River and Rockfalls Rivermouths and Ponds It also presents several smaller groups of pictures from series still in the making and never before published Southam's own brief narratives about the places and processes he captures together with essays by esteemed photo historians Gerry Badger and Andy Grundberg create a rich context for contemplating these remarkable landscape stories BOOK JACKET Books on Wheels Janice McArthur, Barbara McGuire, 1998-08-15 Get books moving off the library shelves and into the hands of children with this integrated package for thematic instruction Sixteen chapters based on such lively themes as Risky Reading adventure stories Horrendous Fun monster stories and Book Line and Sinkers ocean world contain introductions to the themes introductory activities booktalks annotated bibliographies and reproducible activity pages that extend learning across the curriculum Activities are coded by grade level A valuable tool for cooperative planning between librarians and teachers this book helps librarians choose present and promote book titles appropriate to specific themes It also helps teachers plan corresponding activities Grades K-3 Folktales of Newfoundland Pbdirect J.D.A. Widdowson, Herbert Halpert, 2015-02-20 This collection of Newfoundland folk narratives first published in 1996 grew out of extensive fieldwork in folk culture in the province The intention was to collect as broad a spectrum of traditional material as possible and Folktales of Newfoundland is notable not only for the number and quality of its narratives but also for the format in which they are presented A special transcription system conveys to the reader the accents and rhythms of each performance and the endnote to each tale features an analysis of the narrator's language In addition Newfoundland has preserved many aspects of English and Irish folk tradition some of which are no longer active in the countries of their origin Working from the premise that traditions virtually unknown in England might still survive in active form in Newfoundland the researchers set out to discover if this was in fact the case Healing Stories for Challenging Behaviour Susan, 2012-12-07 Healing Stories for Challenging Behaviour brings together the fruits of Susan Perrow's work in storymaking It is richly illustrated with lively anecdotes drawn from parents and teachers who have discovered how the power of story can help resolve a range of common childhood behaviours and situations such as separation anxiety bullying sibling rivalry nightmares and grieving Echoes of the Silk Road: Stories of the Orient by a Master Storyteller
