Reconciliation Post Apartheid Baby:

Reconciliation Post Apartheid Baby Fikile Portia Ndlovu, 2014-12-17 This book investigates modern reconciliation perspectives of the family and community past racial divides The book seeks to highlight freedom from past apartheid stereotypes and hurts from a biblical perspective

Women, Activism and Apartheid South Africa Bev Orton, 2018-10-05 This book investigates women's political activism and conflict in the struggle against apartheid in South Africa using play texts alongside interviews with female playwrights and women who worked within the theatre to examine issues around domestic violence racial abuse and women in detention without trial

Writing, Politics and Change in South Africa after Apartheid Christopher Warnes, 2023-06-08 This book considers South African writing for what it tells us about politics culture and change after apartheid

I Believe In Evan - My Fight to Save my Baby from a Devastating Brain Injury and the Forces Against Us Elise Schwarz, 2016-01-08 On 18 January 2012 Elise Schwarz received a phone call that threatened to tear her world to pieces There's something wrong with Evan He's turning blue her babysitter screamed down the line When Evan was born Elise felt her life was complete She had her own New York apartment a brilliant career as a litigator and a beautiful baby boy But all that was thrown into turmoil when her only child was found to be the victim of shaken baby syndrome All evidence pointed to the babysitter with whom Elise had entrusted Evan's care In the agonising weeks and months that follow she finds herself taking on both the New York authorities who at first prevent her from taking charge of her own child and a medical establishment that seems anxious to terminate Evan's prospects as swiftly as possible But this single gay mother with a great support network of friends and family around her had the resilience to fight like a tigress for her son in order to prevent his short life being extinguished prematurely Faced with a nightmarish mix of emotions and a roller coaster of conflicting advice and agonising decision making Elise emerges a Mother Courage prepared to go to any lengths for her son This moving and compelling account told in diary form is a testament to a mother's unbending love and above all unflinching belief in her child

Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse Nwachukwu Frank Ukadike, 2014-02-27 Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse utilizes an interdisciplinary approach to lay bare the diversity and essence of African cinema discourse It is an anthology of historical reflections critical essays and interviews by film critics historians theorists and filmmakers that signifies a dialogue and engagement apropos the ideology and cultural politics of film production in Africa The contributors are extremely concerned not only with the history of African cinema but with its future and its potential This book then is not limited to the expansion of the discourse on African cinema but tries to approach the definition of the critical canon within the exigencies and manifestations of art and African sociopolitical practices The authors view these practices as an investment in a cultural imperative stemming from the quest to delineate how critical methodologies are derived from and shape contemporary historical and cultural practices Hence the contributions are less about the usual constrictive method of analysis and more about illustrating manifestations of an interrogative critical methodology that is certainly an offspring of an indigenous African critical cum cinematic culture and paradigms Commissioning and Contesting Post-Apartheid's Human Rights Ulrike Kistner, 2003 The essays compiled in this book take issue with some of the directions of human rights politics in the immediate post apartheid period They look at the relationship between different sets of rights within the political contestations in South Africa To the terms of social struggles for rights and justice this book brings perspectives from narrative psychoanalysis political philosophy and medical history and from the history of national liberation struggles nationalism and citizenship Towards a Transcultural Future: Literature and Human Rights in a 'Post'-Colonial World ,2021-10-18 Studying postcolonial literatures in English can and indeed should make a human rights activist of the reader there is after all any amount of evidence to show the injustices and inhumanity thrown up by processes of decolonization and the struggle with past legacies and present corruptions Yet the human rights aspect of postcolonial literary studies has been somewhat marginalized by scholars preoccupied with more fashionable questions of theory The present collection seeks to redress this neglect whereby the definition of human rights adopted is intentionally broad The volume reflects the human rights situation in many countries from Mauritius to New Zealand from the Cameroon to Canada It includes a focus on the Malawian writer Jack Mapanje The contributors concerns embrace topics as varied as denotified tribes in India female genital mutilation in Africa native residential schools in Canada political violence in Northern Ireland the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the discourse of the Treaty of Waitangi The editors hope that the very variety of responses to the invitation to reflect on questions of Literature and Human Rights will both stimulate further discussion and prompt action Contributors are Edward O Ako Hilarious N Ambe Ken Arvidson Jogamaya Bayer Maggie Ann Bowers Chandra Chatterjee Lindsey Collen G N Devy James Gibbs J U Jacobs Karen King Aribisala Sindiwe Magona Lee Maracle Stuart Marlow Don Mattera Wumi Raji Lesego Rampolokeng Dieter Riemenschneider Ahmed Saleh Jamie S Scott Mark Shackleton Johannes A Smit Peter O Stummer Robert Sullivan Rajiva Wijesinha Chantal Zabus Military Training And Children In Armed Conflict Jenny Kuper, 2005 During recent armed conflicts such as those in Iraq the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda public attention was repeatedly caught by images of children both as civilians and as soldiers Those conflicts like so many others were vivid reminders that where there is armed conflict there are also almost always children Soldiers and officers fulfil many roles in relation to such children sometimes as combatants sometimes as humanitarian workers sometimes as protectors and or sometimes as enemies and abusers This book aims to address three main questions what are the obligations of officers of national armed forces in relation to children either civilians or combatants whom they or those under their command may encounter while participating in situations of armed conflict How realistic and achievable are these obligations How can compliance with them be encouraged monitored and or enforced The book examines these questions in the context of military training In doing so it has another inextricably linked aim to see if there are ways in which the training of officers can improve the protection of children in armed conflict situations in accordance with international law and policy It is intended for use particularly by those involved in training of national armed forces including officers themselves and members of governments non governmental organisations NGOs and inter governmental organisations It is hoped that it will also be of interest to lawyers academics and others concerned with child rights and related law and policy It contains examples of actual training materials that can be modified for use in different countries and contexts

Cultured Violence Rosemary Jane Jolly, 2010-01-01 Cultured Violence explores contemporary South African culture as a test case for the achievement of democracy by constitutional means in the wake of prolonged and violent cultural conflict Drawing on and juxtaposing narratives of profoundly different kinds the fiction of J M Coetzee public testimony from the Truth and Reconciliation Commission documents from former Deputy President Jacob Zuma's rape trial and personal interviews among them in order to illuminate different cultural senses of the state of the nation and retrieve otherwise elusive descriptions of South African subjects taken from accounts of their individual lives

Tragedy and the Witness Fred Parker, 2025-04-15 As he dies Hamlet pleads with Horatio to report me aright tell my story This book deals with the task of bearing witness to anguish atrocity and madness as these are staged in the tragic theatre Focusing on the relationship between the protagonist and the onlooker or witness it explores how the tragic figure often and understandably viewed as alien or culpable or profoundly strange struggles to be understood Centred on Shakespeare its wide ranging approach also introduces works by among others the Greeks Racine Ibsen Pirandello Kafka Beckett and Kane The discussion intersects with trauma studies and with psychoanalytic theory especially around how subjective experience is held by others The challenge of entering into such difficult experience is likened to the offering of hospitality to the foreigner or stranger the challenge of overcoming xenophobia Another large concern is with how tragedy represents madness and how far such states of mind may be shared with an audience particularly through the lens of King Lear Written in an accessible style this book grounds tragedy in matters that resonate in common experience from mental breakdown and our need to be heard to questions around grieving trauma and the ethics of telling someone's story

Young Women Against Apartheid Emily Bridger, 2021 Provides a new perspective on the struggle against apartheid and contributes to key debates in South African history gender inequality sexual violence and the legacies of the liberation struggle WINNER OF THE RHS GLADSTONE BOOK PRIZE 2022 WINNER OF THE SOCIETY FOR THE HISTORY OF CHILDREN AND YOUTH GRACE ABBOTT BOOK PRIZE 2021 SHORTLISTED FOR THE ASAUK FAGE relate their personal experiences to collective histories of the struggle and insert themselves into a historical narrative from which they have been excluded Through exploring these women's memories this book serves as an important corrective to South Africa's male centric literature on violence and provides a new gendered perspective on the wider histories of township politics activism and conflict

Local childhoods, global issues Heather Montgomery, 2013 This interdisciplinary textbook examines children's lives across the world acknowledging the great differences as well as points of comparison between childhoods in different contexts The Rabbi, the Goddess, and Jung Naomi Ruth Lowinsky,2016-11-01 A sanctuary for the soul In The Rabbi the Goddess and Jung Naomi Ruth Lowinsky shows us how to create a sacred space by cultivating one's inner life Admitting that this is not an easy practice in our hectic fearful times she demonstrates how the word from within orients whether it comes as gift or disturbance guest or ghost riddle or revelation It may force a confrontation with one's worst fears It may visit in nightmare images such as the enormous spider with hairy legs and eight baleful eyes that appeared in a dream come to warn it would seem of the perils facing human nature and Mother Nature It is essential especially in difficult times to make space for what the Kabbalah calls the beyond that lies within the still small voice of the Self the long view of the wisdom traditions In this collection of poetic visionary essays Lowinsky tells stories of the Lady Tree who showed up when she was six and has wandered in and out of her life revealing her Goddess nature Active imagination enables her to work out unfinished business with ancestors including her father and Jung Dreams introduce her to her spirit guides and to a dancing rabbi who insists she study Kabbalah And that scary spider turns out to be Grandmother Spider a creator goddess who has the power if we recognize Her to help us reweave our relationship with earth

Contemporary Jewish Writing in South Africa Claudia Bathsheba Braude,2001-01-01 With the release of Nelson Mandela the advent of nonracial democracy and the Truth and Reconciliation Commission South Africans have found themselves grappling with the legacy of apartheid's racial and cultural divisions Together with Claudia Bathsheba Braude's path breaking introduction the stories collected in this anthology tap silences that were central to apartheid rule and that have particular resonances for South African Jewish history and memory Bringing together the best and most noteworthy of a wide range of contemporary writers who represent the historical specificities and contradictions of South African Jewish life under apartheid Contemporary Jewish Writing in South Africa makes compellingly clear the depths and complexities of a society in which racial identities including Jewish whiteness were deliberately constructed The contributors include Nobel Prize winning novelist Nadine Gordimer well known writers such as Rose Zwi and Dan Jacobson exiled ANC activist and constitutional court judge Albie Sachs satirist Pieter Dirk Uys a penetrating critic of apartheid and actor and writer Matthew Krouse whose fiction offers a provocative blending of gay and Jewish identities in the postapartheid era The volume traces the construction of memory and racial identity in South African Jewish literary and cultural history Among the recurring themes in these stories are the selective presentation of certain aspects of Jewish life under apartheid a reevaluation of identity after its fall and the conflicting shadow of the Holocaust in a white supremacist society Giving nuanced voice to questions about history race and ethnicity in postapartheid South Africa these stories will be of broad interest Passing Lipika Pelham,2021-12-01 Considers the many different forms of passing race ethnicity sexuality gender Violence and War in Culture and the Media Athina Karatzogianni,2013-06-17 This edited volume examines theoretical and empirical issues relating to violence and war and its implications for media culture and society Over the last two decades there has been a proliferation of books films and art on the subject of violence and war However this is the first volume that offers a varied analysis which has wider implications for several disciplines thus providing the reader with a text that is both multi faceted and accessible This book introduces the current debates surrounding this topic through five particular lenses the historical involves an examination of historical patterns of the communication of violence and war through a variety sources the cultural utilises the cultural studies perspective to engage with issues of violence visibility and spectatorship the sociological focuses on how terrorism violence and war are remembered and negotiated in the public sphere the political offers an exploration into the politics of assigning blame for war the influence of psychology on media actors and new media political communication issues in relation to the state and the media the gender studies perspective provides an analysis of violence and war from a gender studies viewpoint Violence and War in Culture and the Media will be of much interest to students of war and conflict studies media and communications studies sociology security studies and political science

Trauma, Resistance, Reconstruction in Post-1994 South African Writing Jaspal Kaur Singh, Rajendra Chetty, 2010 The re conceptualization of South Africa as a democracy in 1994 has influenced the production and reception of texts in this nation and around the globe The literature emerging after 1994 provides a vision for reconciling the fragmented past produced by the brutality of apartheid policies and consequently shifting social relations from a traumatized past to a reconstructed future The purpose of the essays in this anthology is to explore within the literary imagination and cultural production of a post apartheid nation and its people how the trauma and violence of the past are reconciled through textual strategies What role does memory play for the remembering subject working through the trauma of a violent past

A Century of South African Theatre Loren Kruger, 2019-11-28 Theatre is not part of our vocabulary Sipho Sepamla's provocation in 1981 the year of famous anti apartheid play Woza Albert prompts the response yes indeed it is A Century of South African Theatre demonstrates the impact of theatre and other performances pageants concerts sketches workshops and performance art over the last hundred years Its coverage includes African responses to pro British pageants celebrating white Union in 1910 such as the Emancipation Centenary of the abolition of British colonial slavery in 1934 organized by Griffiths Motsieloa and HIE Dhlomo through anti apartheid testimonial theatre by Athol Fugard Maishe Maponya Gcina Mhlophe and many others right up to the present dramatization of state capture inequality and state violence in today's unevenly democratic society where government has promised much but delivered little Building on Loren Kruger's personal observations of forty years as well as her published research A Century of South African Theatre provides theoretical coordinates from institution to public sphere to syncretism in performance in order to highlight South Africa's changing engagement with the world from the days of Empire through the apartheid era to the multi lateral and multi lingual networks of the 21st century The final chapters use the Constitution's injunction to improve wellbeing as a prompt to examine the dramaturgy of new problems especially AIDS and domestic violence as well as the better known performances in and around the Truth and Reconciliation Commission Kruger critically evaluates internationally known theatre makers including the signature collaborations between animator designer William Kentridge and Handspring Puppet Company and highlights the local and transnational impact of major post apartheid companies such as Magnet Theatre

State of Peril Lucy Valerie Graham, 2015 Considering fiction from the colonial era to the present State of Peril offers the first sustained scholarly examination of rape narratives in the literature of a country that has extremely high levels of sexual violence Lucy Graham demonstrates how despite the fact that most incidents of rape in South Africa are not interracial narratives of interracial rape have dominated the national imaginary Seeking to understand this phenomenon the study draws on Michel Foucault's ideas on sexuality and biopolitics as well as Judith Butler's speculations on race and cultural melancholia Historical analysis of the body politic provides the backdrop for careful close readings of literature by Olive Schreiner Sol Plaatje Sarah Gertrude Millin Njabulo Ndebele J M Coetzee Zo Wicomb and others Ultimately State of Peril argues for ethically responsible interpretations that recognize high levels of sexual violence in South Africa while parsing the racialized inferences and assumptions implicit in literary representations of bodily violation
