Reporting Genocide David Patrick, 2017-12-13 The Western world's responses to genocide have been slow unwieldy and sometimes unfit for purpose So argues David Patrick in this essential new contribution to the aid and intervention debate While the UK and US have historically been committed to the ideals of human rights freedom and equality their actual material reactions are more usually dictated by geopolitical noise pre conceived ideas of worth and the media attention spans of individual elected leaders Utilizing a wide ranging quantitative analysis of media reporting across the globe Patrick argues that an over reliance on the Holocaust as the framing device we use to try and come to terms with such horrors can lead to slow responses misinterpretation and category errors in both Rwanda and Bosnia much energy was expended trying to ascertain whether these regions qualified for genocide status The Reporting of Genocide demonstrates how such tragedies are reduced to stereotypes in the media framed in terms of innocent victims and brutal oppressors which can over simplify the situation on the ground This in turn can lead to mixed and inadequate responses from governments Reporting on Genocide also seeks to address how responses to genocides across the globe can be improved and will be essential reading for policy makers and for scholars of genocide and the media

"Meeting" Anne Frank Tim Whittome, 2021-03-07 Meeting Anne Frank An Anthology captures the stories of some twenty of us who have walked with Anne Frank and her sister Margot as kindred spirits over the course of the many decades that have elapsed since both girls died from typhus and Nazi cruelty in Bergen Belsen in 1945 None writing here actually met or knew Anne personally but we have talked to her and journeyed with her kindred spirit Anne Frank unites us at a time when so much of the world is riven by the familiar and divisive themes of partisan politics anti-Semitism and prejudice You will though be meeting those who did know Anne's most adorable father Otto and they have kindly shared their vivid stories in this volume You will be seeing how we cherish not just the loving father daughter relationship that has come to mean so much for many of us but also the inspiration of Anne's patient mother Edith and her ladylike older sister Margot Several of Anne's surviving school friends also appear in the journeys undertaken by a number of my contributors In the years since she died in 1945 Anne Frank has become variously the sister mother wife daughter girlfriend or best friend to each of us writing for this anthology and to many in the wider world We honor the happy and tragic story of Anne's brief life and recognize the existence of at least two Annes in both her sense of fun and mischief and in her growing self awareness while in hiding Anne was only a child while she lived freely at Merwedeplein 37 in Amsterdam The Netherlands and barely a teenager when she died in a Nazi concentration camp for the simple crime of being Jewish Anne wanted to go on living after her death in February or March 1945 and I hope we have honored her lasting wish in this work [Annual Report, International Religious Freedom United States.
