International Peacekeeping Boris Kondocho, 2017-05-15 Peacekeeping has been the technique most frequently used by and associated with the United Nations to end conflicts and to preserve peace In addition international and regional organizations have also performed peacekeeping functions Since the establishment of the first UN peacekeeping mission UNEF I in 1956 international lawyers have raised questions about the legal aspects of these operations Traditionally they analyzed the constitutional basis for peacekeeping and tried to allocate the authority under the UN Charter for peacekeeping among the Security Council the General Assembly and the Secretary General They discussed the use of force by peacekeepers the applicability of international humanitarian law as well as the responsibilities and liabilities of peacekeepers Since the end of the cold war peacekeeping operations have become more complex In the first forty years peacekeepers functioned mainly as buffer zones between warring parties and monitored cease fires Nowadays they are increasingly engaged in internal rather than international conflicts and perform a multitude of tasks Among others they act as civilian administrators oversee elections and monitor human rights These changes have raised new legal problems Which human rights obligations exist for peacekeepers Do peacekeepers have to intervene if they witness war crimes and acts of genocide How are they protected under international law What is the legal framework of UN administrations like in Kosovo and East Timor In order to enhance a better understanding of these legal issues arising from peacekeeping operations a collection of articles written by the leading experts in the field have been compiled in the volume International Peacekeeping A New Trusteeship? Richard Caplan, 2014-09-25 This paper analyses and assesses the effectiveness of international administrations of war torn territories and discusses the key issues strategic political and economic that arise in the context of these experiences It reflects on the policy implications of these experiences and recommends reforms or new approaches to international administration UN Peacekeeping in Lebanon, Somalia and Kosovo Ray Murphy, 2007-05-10 The concept of UN peacekeeping has had to evolve and change to meet the challenges of contemporary sources of conflict consequently peacekeeping operations have grown rapidly in number and complexity This book examines a number of issues associated with contemporary multinational peace operations and seeks to provide insights into the problems that arise in establishing and deploying such forces to meet the challenges of current conflicts The focus of the book is three case studies Lebanon Somalia and Kosovo involving a comparative analysis of the traditional peacekeeping in Lebanon the more robust peace enforcement mission in Somalia and the international administration undertaken on behalf of the international community in Kosovo The book analyses the lessons that may be learned from these operations in terms of mandates command and control use of force and the relevance of international humanitarian and human rights law to such operations Holding UNPOL to Account Ai Kihara-Hunt, 2017-03-06 Ai Kihara Hunt s Holding UNPOL to Account Individual Criminal Accountability of United Nations Police Personnel analyzes whether the mechanisms that address criminal accountability of United Nations police personnel serving in peace operations are effective and if there is a problem how it can be mitigated The volume reviews the obligations of States and the UN to investigate and prosecute criminal acts committed by UN police and examines the jurisdictional and immunity issues involved It concludes that these do not constitute legal barriers to accountability although immunity poses some problems in practice The principal problem appears to be the lack of political will to bring prosecutions as well as a lack of transparency which makes it difficult accurately to determine the scale of the problem United Nations Peace Operations and Human Rights Sylvia Maus, 2020-08-10 In United Nations Peace Operations and Human Rights Normativity and Compliance Sylvia Maus offers a comprehensive account of the human rights obligations of United Nations peace operations with a dual focus on the applicability and the content of UN peace operations human rights obligations Selected case studies show a triad of human rights gaps a protection gap an accountability gap and a remedy gap Going further than purely legal studies on the subject Maus makes use of international relations theory and addresses considerations of reputation and legitimacy as reasons for non compliance with human rights by the UN Based on this interdisciplinary approach she convincingly proposes ways for enhancing human rights compliance in UN peace operations

Partnership Peace Operations Hideaki Shinoda, 2024-04-09 Partnership is a key concept in contemporary international peace operations There is no universal model of peace operations in contemporary international society Ad hoc arrangements of partnership between the United Nations and various regional organizations are consequences of the complex circumstances of international security The ways in which partnerships are organised differently in different regions reflect each region s distinctive security situation The universal nature of liberal peacebuilding is thus maintained only by ad hoc arrangements All the UN peacekeeping operations in Africa have some partnership linkages with regional or sub regional organizations ranging from the African Union AU and regional mechanisms to the European Union EU What are the conditions and characteristics that enable or lead to partnership peacekeeping in Africa How should we understand lower levels of partnership peacekeeping in other regions By highlighting key characteristics of partnership peacekeeping the book explores these issues and argues that partnership is a reflection of political circumstances The book provides an unexplored but critical perspective to understand the contemporary world for those who study International Relations Security Studies International Organizations and Peace Studies
