Haridakis, Barbara S. Hugenberg, Stanley T. Wearden, 2014-01-10 Mass communication is used by governments to support their war efforts while media images are created or manipulated to inform persuade or guide the consumers of those images But this book looks beyond the obvious The contributors examine historical and contemporary examples that reflect the role of the media or mass communication or both during wartime The essays highlight the centrality of communication to the perpetuation and to the resolution of war suggesting that the symbiotic relationship between communication and war is as important to understand as war itself World War II on Film David Lührssen, 2020-11-09 World War II on Film examines the war

through the lens of 12 films The movies selected include productions made during World War II and in each succeeding decade providing a sense of how different generations perceive the war World War II on Film provides a succinct yet well grounded appraisal of that war as seen through 12 representative films The book separates fact from fiction showing where the movies were accurate and where they departed from reality and places them in the larger context of historical and social events Each movie chosen represents a particular aspect of the conflict including the air war over Europe the condition of prisoners of war Nazi atrocities and the British evacuation at Dunkirk Unlike most histories of Hollywood during World War II or the genre of war movies World War II on Film examines in depth the relation between the depictions of events beliefs attitudes and ways of life as seen on film with reality as documented by historians or recorded by journalists or eyewitnesses to the war The volume will appeal to high school and college readers as well as general interest readers and film buffs

Allan Dwan and the Rise and Decline of the Hollywood Studios Frederic Lombardi,2013-03-05 It could be said that the career of Canadian born film director Allan Dwan 1885 1981 began at the dawn of the American motion picture industry Originally a scriptwriter Dwan became a director purely by accident Even so his creativity and problem solving skills propelled him to the top of his profession He achieved success with numerous silent film performers most spectacularly with Douglas Fairbanks Sr and Gloria Swanson and later with such legendary stars as Shirley Temple and John Wayne Though his star waned in the sound era Dwan managed to survive through pluck and ingenuity Considering himself better off without the fame he enjoyed during the silent era he went on to do some of his best work for second echelon studios notably Republic Pictures Sands of Iwo Jima and such independent producers as Edward Small Along the way Dwan also found personal happiness in an unconventional manner Rich in detail with two columns of text in each of its nearly 400 pages and with more than 150 photographs this book presents a thorough examination of Allan Dwan and separates myth from truth in his life and films Operation Homecoming ,2004 Shooting the Messenger Paul Moorcraft,2011-10-31 Wars have dominated politics since history began In the modern era most of what the media reports on foreign conflicts comes from a small band of war correspondents As the furore over the Iraq Afghan and now the Libyan wars demonstrates Western governments and militaries often collude to keep their voters in the dark about the causes and the conduct of wars waged in their name In this entertaining and unspun account of modern war reporting the authors ask whether the media itself drives democracies to war Or does it serve to constrain evil ignorant and messianic leaders Are the heirs of William Howard Russell the first modern war reporter watchdogs or lapdogs In the age of Wikileaks and corrupt media empires what is the political impact of war correspondents Are they the heroes or harlots of their profession Official News Letter American Farm Bureau Federation, 1925 The Lions of Iwo Jima Fred Haynes, James A. Warren, 2008-08-05 We Walk by Faith offers a heart thumping blend of narrative history and memoir by a survivor and a military historian that puts a human face on one of the great battles of World War II and the men who fought in it
